

County Executive Latimer to Resign Jan. 2, to Take Oath in New Congress

By Dan Murphy

"I am deeply appreciative of the many kindnesses that have been shown to be over these past 7 years

"There is a time to come and a time to go with everything. I hope my time in Washington will be substantive,"

County Executive & Congressman-elect
George Latimer

Westchester County Executive George Latimer announced that he will resign his office on January 2, 2025 so that he can take the oath of office as the new Congressman for NY-District 16. Latimer made the announcement at his recent weekly news briefing.

"Effective January 2, I will be resigning the position of County Executive. That is because I will be sworn in as a Congressman. I am deeply appreciative of the many kindnesses that have been shown to be over these past 7 year. I am prepared to work closely with this county government, but there is a time to come and a time to go with everything. I hope my time in Washington will be substantive," said Latimer, who in addition to his most recent 7 years of service as County Executive, he also served for 13 years as a County Legislator, giving him 20 years of service in county government.

Latimer also went over the procedure for selecting his replacement, which has been the cause of confusion for some in Westchester. "Board of Legislators Chair Gashi will appoint an acting County Executive for a couple of days, until the first meeting of the BOL on January 6. At that meeting they (BOL) will appoint an acting County Executive for 90 days, until they set the date for a special election, which will likely be in the month of February."

At that point the Democratic and Republican parties in Westchester will select their candidates for County Executive and both will face off in that special election. There will be no primary in either party for County Executive until June.

Deputy County Executive Ken Jenkins has announced his campaign for County Executive and is widely seen to be the choice of county legislators when they meet to appoint an acting County Executive.

Three Grinches Caught Stealing Christmas Gifts with a Santa Hat on! Watch Your Packages!

From the Yonkers Police Department:

We do not think Santa would appreciate Ms. Torres wearing his hat while attempting to steal Christmas!

Adriana Torres, Manuel Ortiz, and Vladymir Campos learned the hard way that YPD does not tolerate package theft in our city.

These grinches were all charged with Petit Larceny, Criminal Possession of Stolen Property in the Fifth Degree, and Possession of Burglar's Tools following their arrest on Bronx River Road this past Saturday afternoon.

Let this serve as a reminder that our uniform and plain clothes officers are out in force this holiday season. It doesn't pay to be a Grinch!

Local governments in Westchester are in the process of reviewing and adopting budgets for the 2025 year. In Yorktown, the Town Board recently reduced Supervisor Ed Lachterman's proposed tax increase for Yorktown's 2025 budget from 8.6% to 6.6%, still over the tax cap and the highest property tax increase from local governments in Westchester to date.

The vote for the budget was 3-2 with Lachterman, and Town Board members Susan Siegel and Patrick Murphy voting yes, and Town Board members Sergio Esposito and Luciana Haughwout voting no. While Esposito and Haughwout voted no on the budget, both voted yes on overriding the tax cap, which was a

OPEN FIRE BAN LIFTED FOR WESTCHESTER COUNTY PARKS

Ban lift effective immediately

On Dec. 2, the open fire ban placed on Westchester County Parks has been lifted, effective immediately, due to recent soaking rains that alleviated the dry conditions.

The New York State Department of Environmental Conservation and the National Weather Service both no longer have warnings issued for our area, and while Westchester County remains in drought conditions the fire danger has lessened.

Officials will closely follow conditions and take further action if needed.

Taxpayer Action Network (TANPAC) Launched for Fiscal Conservatism & Transparency in NY

A new political action committee, the Taxpayer Action Network (TANPAC), has officially launched to champion fiscally conservative policies, federalism, transparency, and limited government principles throughout New York State. Founded in the Summer of 2024, TANPAC is dedicated to promoting responsible government spending, prioritizing taxpayer interests, and ensuring accountability at the local, county, and state levels.

With a primary focus on the Hudson Valley, TANPAC is also set to expand its efforts statewide, working to research and support elected officials and candidates who demonstrate a commitment to prioritizing government spending and controlling taxation. As part of its mission, TANPAC invites all candidates and elected officials to take the Taxpayer First Pledge on its website, TaxpayerActionNetwork.com.

The pledge states:

“I will support the implementation of policies to improve taxpayer engagement, transparency, and better control government spending and taxation.

I acknowledge that the federal and state governments account for 70% of local government spending in mandates, and only 30% of local government spending is at the discretion of local government. In both cases, I will advocate for the proper prioritization of that spending, focusing on the core functions of government.”

“New York taxpayers deserve a government that respects their hard-earned money and prioritizes efficiency and accountability over wasteful spending,” said Kevin Byrne, Putnam County Executive and one of TANPAC’s founders. “The Taxpayer Action Network is here to advocate for good fiscal policy and support candidates who are committed to transparency and accountability in government. Together, we can change the trajectory of New York governance for the better.”

TANPAC makes clear and objective evaluations of candidates while engaging with local communities to drive impactful change on a wide variety of issues facing New York State. Through its advocacy efforts and pledge initiative, the organization aims to uphold federalism and limited government principles while ensuring taxpayer resources are spent responsibly.

Recently, TANPAC held its first networking event and fundraiser in Mahopac, New York, with special guest speaker NYC Minority Council Leader Joe Borelli. Borelli, who is being considered by many to be a candidate for the upcoming NYC Mayoral Race, spoke to the packed crowd about the importance of local and state elections as well as sensible spending policies.

The Taxpayer Action Network PAC invites citizens, candidates, and elected officials to join its mission by visiting TaxpayerActionNetwork.com for more information, updates, and ways to get involved.

Gaza Protest at Sarah Lawrence College Ends After 7 Days-Admin. Building Occupied

By Dan Murphy

One of the more interesting and underreported stories in Westchester media ended on Nov. 27, when a group of student protestors at Sarah Lawrence College ended their “occupation” of part of the campus and one SLC building.

The students were protesting against the college’s investment in Israeli companies and the use of those monies to fund the Israeli war in Gaza.

This was the first protest in Westchester since the spring, when many college campuses had student protests over Gaza, Israel and the hostages held since Oct. 7, 2023.

The protestors included members the Students for Justice in Palestine and the Divestment Coalition at Sarah Lawrence. The demand from both groups was for SLC to “fully divest from companies manufacturing weapons used by the Israeli government.”

Sarah Lawrence SJP announced the ending of the occupation on Nov. 27 after the administration conceded to one of the protesters’ main demands. “We have voted to dismantle our camp after receiving written confirmation from the college that a report disclosing the extent to which the companies listed in the Divestment Proposal are included in the college’s investment portfolio will be published by January 27, 2025,”

Most of the protestors are not likely to face any punishment, except for the several who “occupied” a SLC administration building, which they held for a day.

SLC President Cristle Judd said, “I want to be clear that peaceful protest has long been a part of Sarah Lawrence’s history. I want to be equally clear that some of yesterday’s actions crossed lines in ways that cannot be ignored or condoned. Students whose actions threatened the health and safety of those in our community or who knowingly and repeatedly violated clearly communicated college policies will be subject to disciplinary action through the student conduct hearing process,”

SLC Professor Samuel Abrams said that President Judd’s words, “ring hollow to me.” “The students’ behavior is performative; it is causing harm to their peers as well as to the school’s mission and core functions. The college should ask law enforcement to end this charade, and these students should be held fully accountable and must face consequences, including expulsion. Judd should be removed from office, and the school needs to return to its true values of actually providing a liberal education so that its students can “tackle the problems of, and thrive in, a complex and rapidly evolving world.” Sarah Lawrence College has fallen; it can be rebuilt with the right guidance and leadership. None of this should have happened, and it is a direct result of educational malpractice and disastrous leadership by the school’s president,” wrote Abrams for Mindingthecampus.org-<https://www.mindingthecampus.org/2024/11/25/sarah-lawrence-has-fallen/>.

Not surprisingly, the SLC Student newspaper, The Phoenix and reporters Tallulah Hawley and Zoe Cushing supported the rights of student protest. “Sarah Lawrence’s occupation takes place amid a global shift in how universi

Oh There’s No Place Like Target for the Holidays

By Eric Wolf Schoen

‘Twas 3 days after Thanksgiving, and all through the Yonkers Target.

Not Even a Christmas Tree left in the Market!

For the week prior to Tom Turkey’s Arrival,

Target had 50 % off of everything for Christmas in Style!

And so begins our holiday shopping in and around Yonkers. But this year a particular trend is developing. Stores would often be stuck with stocks of merchandise left at the end of the holidays. But by discounting early consumers would get a good deal shopping and the things they need to ‘make their spirits bright.’

Moral of the story is to buy the things you will need early as you are not going to find a big selection at the end. With a new administration in Washington, stores don’t know what to expect and consumers find themselves in the same boat.

Check delivery minimums when shopping as you will often guarantee the best price. So many stores now compete for your business you want to make sure you are getting the lowest price possible. Look at dates on everything you want as items can quite be often be out of date and bring this to the attention of management,

A modern outlet for thing for Christmas stockings are the dollar stores particularly Dollar Tree in Yonkers on McLean Avenue and on South Broadway. Excellent items are fresh and they have large selections of products that can be appetizing to all family members. I particularly like the pints of ice cream they sell for $1.25. Butter Pecan, Chocolate, vanilla as far as I am concerned taste just like the name brands for less than a third of the price.

Check with the manager of your dollar store as to What days the frozen trucks come in. This guarantees you know when to be at the stores. If the truck comes in on Thursday nights or Monday night it is parked out overnight and is available the following morning. Occasionally items are packed out when they arrive. Dollar store items go quickly so get to your store early for best selection.

Everyone loves a Gift certificate, and always buy the bonus ones with bonuses attached to them. They give you an extra 5 or 10 dollar bonus which comes in handy after the holidays.

Make sure you use the cards promptly and on time.

You are not going to find a Sunday paper chock full of circulars as we have found in the past, so your best bet is to get on the email lists of the stores you shop and or on the stores hardcopy Mail list. Contact Stores that you are going to to find out weekly specials. Stock up at non shopping center stores.

If you are not handicapped don’t park in a handicapped parking. Spot. And always rememberer , if you see something unusual say something. We want you to have a very happy holiday. Filled with joy, love and beautiful things!

Richard Forliano Honored

At a recent conference held in Port Jefferson, NY, Richard Forliano, Historian for the Town of Eastchester, received the APHNYS Award for Excellence in Promoting Local History. Forliano was recognized for his decades of work in interpreting and saving the Town's rich history.

Dick was appointed Eastchester Town Historian in 1988, while he also taught American History at Eastchester Junior and Senior High for many years. After retiring in 2003, he devoted himself full-time to local history, and succeeded through passion and innovative programs in making it interesting and significant to audiences at every level.

All his initiatives and accomplishments are woven into the fabric of community service, as we described in the many letters we received from his colleagues and friends. His recent activities have included his ongoing fight to save Ward House, a significant site in Westchester County's Revolutionary War history.

"I was delighted to witness the presentation of this most deserved award to Eastchester Historian Dick Forliano. His love of history has touched and inspired thousands of his Eastchester residents and students over the years to appreciate and love local history truly. Well done, APHNYS! You couldn't have honored a more worthy person," said Yonkers Historian Mary Hoar.

Senator Nick Spano:
A Legacy of Service and Advocacy

Nick Spano, with Santa Claus at a recent Operation Santa Claus fundraiser in Yonkers

Nick Spano, a name synonymous with service, made an indelible mark during his tenure as a New York State Senator, where he served the people with unwavering dedication for over two decades. Today, almost 18 years after stepping away from the Senate chamber, Spano continues to pursue what he does best, championing the causes closest to his heart, particularly advocating for individuals with developmental disabilities.

In the years since leaving public office, Spano's passion for supporting vulnerable communities has only deepened. His advocacy is not just a professional commitment but a deeply personal one, rooted in his desire to create a world where people with developmental disabilities are included and celebrated for their unique talents and contributions.

Through Operation Santa Claus, Senator Spano has raised thousands of dollars to help organizations provide adaptive equipment for those with developmental disabilities. However, he emphasizes that this work is not possible without the support of people like you. Your support is crucial in providing job training, community integration, and social opportunities for individuals with disabilities, helping to break down barriers and empower participants to lead fulfilling, independent lives.

Spano often speaks about the transformative power of work—not just as a means of financial stability but as a source of pride and purpose. It is important to remember those individuals who were born differently than others through no fault of their own.

Beyond his advocacy, Spano remains a mentor and community leader. Spano serves as Chair of the Board of Richmond Community Services.

"Ever since his days in the New York Senate, Nick Spano has been known as a grand champion for people with developmental disabilities. He chaired the committee on disabilities and was instrumental in securing funding for the field. We at Richmond Community Services have been very fortunate to have Nick as chair of the Board of Directors for the last 10 years. In his role, he provides exceptional leadership and support to this organization. With his hard work on behalf of Richmond and people with developmental disabilities, we got grants and private donations to fund things and services New York State does not pay for. This is essential in providing quality lives to the people we support," said Paca Lipovac, President/CEO of Richmond Community Services.

Senator Spano dedicates countless hours to raising awareness, speaking at events, and interacting with families to better understand their needs. His work is not about accolades or recognition but about ensuring everyone has access to the resources they need to thrive, regardless of their abilities.

Senator Spano's unwavering commitment has not only inspired a new generation of advocates but also left an indelible mark on the lives of countless individuals and families. Although his service in the Senate may have ended nearly two decades ago, his impact continues to grow, offering hope and inspiration to those in need.

For Nick Spano, public service was never just a career—it was and remains a passion.

Operation Santa Claus will hold their annual fundraiser this Sunday, December 8th, at Castle Royale, 92 Waverly Street, Yonkers, NY, from 10 AM to Noon. For more information, please get in touch with Gail Burns at gmb927@gmail.com or 914-469-4835.

Congressman Lawler Introduces Bipartisan Bill Lowering Federal Student Loans Interest Rate to 1%

Update on Saving St. Mary's Church -Yonkers

On Nov. 18, Congressman Mike Lawler (NY-17) introduced the Affordable Loans for Students Act, which will lower the interest rate on federal student loans to 1%. Specifically, the Affordable Loans for Students Act:

- Lowers the interest rate on federal student loans to 1%;
- Retroactively applies the interest rate adjustment to outstanding loans;
- Authorizes the Department of Education to modify the interest rate and refinance student loans automatically, without any opt in from borrowers –borrowers may opt out of refinancing if they choose;
- Provides for the refinancing of other student loans to Part D loans to ease the rate adjustment process;
- Authorizes borrowers to consolidate loans if they have multiple outstanding Part D loans following this change;
- Requires a report with information on the total number of borrowers whose loans have been modified or refinanced under this section during the preceding year and the number of such borrowers who are delinquent in making payments on such a loan.

“Nowhere have costs skyrocketed more than in higher education,” said Congressman Lawler. “And sadly, with high interest rates, making even a dent in the principal balance can be a challenge. The Affordable Loans for Students Act will make higher education easier to access and student loans easier to pay back, instilling confidence in the affordability of college for all borrowers.”

The Affordable Loans for Students Act is endorsed by the American Council on Education (ACE), the National Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators (NASFAA) and the American Association of Colleges and Universities (AAC&U).

“Increasing college affordability is a top priority of ACE and the higher education community. We are proud to endorse the Affordable Loans for Students Act because we believe that lowering interest rates for future and current borrowers and creating greater flexibility in loan repayment options will significantly benefit students. This bill is a great step in the right direction, and we will continue to work with Congress to increase affordability for all students,” said the American Council on Education (ACE).

“NASFAA has long advocated for systemic solutions to reform student loan repayment. By lowering the interest rate on all federal student loans to 1%, the Affordable Loans for Students Act puts forth an equitable approach that would help ease the burden of student loan debt on current and future borrowers. This legislation is an important step in promoting access to affordable postsecondary education,” said Karen McCarthy, Vice President of Public Policy and Federal Relations at the National Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators (NASFAA).

“The American Association of Colleges and Universities is pleased to endorse the Affordable Loans for Students Act. By making it easier to access and repay federal student loans, this bill would make college more affordable for all borrowers and help address the unconscionable debt burden carried by too many students and graduates,” said the American Association of Colleges and Universities (AAC&U).

A view of St. Mary's Church from Yonkers City Hall

By Dan Murphy

We received the following update from a member of the committee that is hoping to come up with a financial solution to save St. Mary's Church on South Broadway in Yonkers. Built in 1948, St. Mary's is the oldest Roman Catholic Church in Yonkers.

It's been several months since our group, Friends of St. Mary's, has been in contact with you and your publication, Yonkers Rising, but we just wanted to assure you, and all of the other thousands of supporters, across the areas of NY and beyond that we're still on the case.

Since the landmark decision, back in July, that was reached unanimously, by the Yonkers City Council, we have been meeting, via phone conference, weekly, to plan & implement a constantly evolving environment, as it pertains to the merger of St. Mary's of the Immaculate Conception with the combined parish of St. Denis- St. Peters.

In late July, accordingly with Canon Laws, our group of St. Mary's parishioners. filed an appeal known as a Petition For Hierarchical Recourse, to the Dicastery for the Clergy in the Vatican on July 22, 2024. This appeals the Decree issued by Timothy Cardinal Dolan, Archbishop of the Archdiocese of New York, the object of which is the elimination of the Parish of the Immaculate Conception located in the City of Yonkers, and conterminously within the boundaries of the Archdiocese of New York.

The Petition For Hierarchical Recourse is being transmitted to your dicastery (Cardinal You) within the 15 useful days available for bringing this appeal following Cardinal Dolan's rejection of the Petition for Reconsideration that we initially brought to him, a rejection which occurred on July 8, 2024.

The response, From the Vatican, 10 September 2024 is as verbatim

Gov. Hochul Vetoes Mayer & Paulin Bill to Support Non-Profit Organizations

Governor Hochul vetoed a bill on Friday by Senator Shelley Mayer and Assemblymember Amy Paulin that aims to address the unacceptably slow contract and procurement process faced by non-profit organizations that contract with New York State. S4877/A2740B would have required agencies that fail to submit renewal contracts to the Attorney General or execute them in a timely fashion to report to the State Comptroller on the status of those late contracts. The bill also would have required agencies with delayed contracts to report to the Comptroller on barriers to submitting and executing contracts in a timely manner, and their plans to address those issues.

New York State relies on not-for-profits for everything from early education childhood programs to safety net services including mental health assistance, homeless shelters and legal counseling. The state outsources to and relies on not-for-profits to provide these services, and without them many programs would not even exist. These agencies are performing work that the state is obligated to do by law. It would be more expensive if the state did the work. Unfortunately, the timeliness of the state's contracting process and procurement is consistently slow, delaying payments and often undermining the financial stability of these organizations.

New York State Senator Shelley B. Mayer said, "I am deeply disappointed that Governor Hochul has vetoed a bill that would have helped non-profit organizations across the state deliver vital services to our communities. For years, I have heard from non-profits about the challenges created by delays in executing their contracts with the state. This legislation would have provided needed transparency for non-profits with delayed contracts, and pushed state agencies to address bottlenecks and other barriers to their ability to execute contracts in a timely manner. Although this is a setback, I will continue to fight, alongside my colleague Assemblymember Paulin, to support our non-profits and address persistent delays in state contracting."

Assemblymember Amy Paulin said, "I am deeply disappointed with Governor Hochul's veto of A.2740b/S.4977a, which would have helped to ensure timely payment to not-for-profits which contract with New York State. This legislation would ensure that the state does not continue to put our state's not-for-profits in precarious and unfair financial situations. Likewise, it will improve the contracting process and ultimately the delivery of essential services to New Yorkers. For these reasons State Senator Mayer and I will be reintroducing this bill in the 2025 Legislative Session. Upon its passage in the Legislature, I urge Governor Hochul to swiftly sign it into law."

My Experience at the 2024 Black Men in Education Convening

By Dennis Richmond Jr.

From November 21st to November 23rd, I had the privilege of attending the 2024 Black Men in Education Convening in Philadelphia, a transformative experience for me as one of the only 1.3% of Black men teaching in America today. This convening brought together around 1,200 folks in education from almost 40 states, all committed to reshaping education for Black students.

As a middle school educator with experience in Yonkers, the Bronx, and now Mount Vernon, I've dedicated my career to empowering students facing systemic barriers. This event reignited my passion and provided valuable tools to better support my students.

The convening provided an invaluable opportunity to connect with professionals deeply committed to educational equity. I had the privilege of engaging with HBCU students such as Glendon Harmon and educators like Reed Driver, a teacher from Nashville, Anthony Johnson of the Belmont Charter Network in Philadelphia, and George R. Greenidge Jr., a visiting fellow at the Harvard Kennedy School. These discussions were inspiring and necessary.

Representation matters, and as a Black male teacher, I know the impact my presence can have on students who may rarely see themselves reflected in their educators. Black male teachers make up just 2% of the overall teaching force, and that statistic isn't lost on me. Events like this convening are critical to building networks, sharing resources, and finding support to stay in this field and thrive.

Thanks to the United Negro College Fund (UNCF), who sponsored my attendance, I walked away from Philadelphia with a clear vision for what I want to achieve. I'm excited to launch several new initiatives at my school in Mount Vernon, starting with ensuring every sixth grader has a library card by January 2025. Access to books and digital resources can be life-changing, and I want to make sure my students have the tools they need to succeed.

I'm also committed to helping all my students achieve grade-level proficiency in Language Arts by June, and I'm designing a Boys Empowerment Class to start in February. This program will focus on leadership, resilience, and academic success, giving boys a safe space to build confidence and receive mentorship from educators who look like them.

In addition, I'm challenging my students to read at least 25 books this year and plan to organize curriculum-aligned field trips to help bring learning to life. These initiatives were directly inspired by conversations I had at the convening, and I'm eager to see the impact they'll have.

Attending the 2024 Black Men in Education Convening wasn't just an inspiring experience—it was a call to action. I left Philadelphia more motivated than ever to push boundaries, challenge the status quo, and provide my students with the opportunities they deserve. This journey is just beginning, and I'm excited to see where it takes me and my students.

Letter to the Editor: Our Tax Dollars at Work?

"Major Biden-Harris Mistake Gave Taliban $239 Million in U.S. Aid".

This was reported by a nationally known government dog watch organization. The report goes on to state—"A new report found that the U.S. mistakenly gave hundreds of millions of dollars to the Taliban after the State Department failed to properly vet award recipients."

"At least $239 million in taxpayer money has landed in the hands of terrorists since the Biden Administration's botched withdrawal from Afghanistan. The State Department appears not to have followed its own counterterrorism partner vetting requirements in Afghanistan before approving the 29 grants to several local entities."

Ardsey Girl Scouts Honor 12 Hometown Veterans

Navy Vet Dan Kaufman with Ardsley Girl Scouts

The Ardsley Girl Scouts recently held their inaugural Veterans Day Military Tribute Banner Walk. In a moving ceremony, 12 Ardsley veterans whose Military Tribute Banners are among Ardsley's 130 banners that are displayed on poles throughout the village in November, were honored. The 12 banners are clustered in a short walking distance in the Village's commercial hub.

Under the Military Tribute Banners of the honorees, a group of Girl Scouts learned about the military service and lives of the 12 who served in the U.S. armed forces. They heard from the children and other relatives and friends who spoke on behalf of their loved ones, several of whom have passed. The honored veterans

Atlantic Appliance Expanding in Yorktown; Small Business Success Against Corporate Giants

Atlantic Appliance owner Joey Vukaj stands with his family and members of the Yorktown Town Board on Nov. 22, 2024 at the site of Vukaj's future store.

The owner of Atlantic Appliance and Town officials recently broke ground at the store's new location. The future store on an approximately five-acre lot at 2010 Maple Hill St. will incorporate numerous environmental protections. The two-story, 25,720-square-foot building will include retail, office, and warehouse space. The location is close to its current store, in the Triangle Shopping Center. The new store will be behind the Triangle and next to the Yorktown Post Office.

Atlantic Appliance, a fixture in the town's business community for 49 years, received a green light from the Yorktown Planning Board for the new store in 2020. Owner Joey Vukaj said it took four years for construction to begin because of environmental reviews and permits.

"You're doing the right thing. You've been in Yorktown for quite a while. We thank you and your family for choosing to develop your business more here and we wish you nothing but success," Supervisor Ed Lachterman told Vukaj during the groundbreaking.

Currently located at 50 Triangle Center in Yorktown, Atlantic Appliance has served northern Westchester and southern Putnam counties since 1975.

"I have five daughters, so I wanted to be established in Yorktown. We have another store in Mount Kisco, but Yorktown is the home of Atlantic Appliance, and I never considered going anywhere else," said Vukaj.

Vukaj began working at the store in 1993 and eventually bought it from the former owner in 2018.

"We are so excited that you're bringing such a beautiful project to this Town and that you've picked the Town of Yorktown to be your home," said Councilman Sergio Esposito.

"I like to see that Atlantic Appliance is staying in Yorktown," said Councilman Patrick Murphy. "It's the holiday season, so if anybody needs appliances for the holidays, you know where to go."

The groundbreaking is the latest economic development milestone for Yorktown. On November 7, the new T.J. Maxx clothing store opened at the Yorktown Green Shopping Center, the first of four businesses that will occupy the footprint of the former Kmart. On June 26, Chipotle opened its new restaurant design—the first in New York—at 3180 Crompond Road.

unanimous 5-0 vote. While Esposito and Haughwout are up for reelection next year, and that is perhaps the reason they didn't want to vote for a 6.6% tax increase, Supervisor Lachterman, also up for reelection voted yes for the large tax increase, which has some in Yorktown wondering why?

"Could a Supervisor vote no on his own budget plan?," asked one town resident. "Or does Ed know that he is running without opposition next year?"

Yorktown Democrats have yet to announce who their candidates will be for Town Board and Supervisor yet, but have less than two months to do so. "I sure hope the Yorktown Democrats put up someone to run because I am disappointed in the so called fiscal-conservative republicans on the Town Board," said another town resident."

Other local government 2025 budgets include:

North Castle--0% Tax Increase. The Town Board and Supervisor Joseph Rende are expected to adopt a $42.6 Million 2025 budget that increases spending by 3.2%, but does not increase taxes. The Town will use $4.1 Million in fund balance to give the residents a holiday gift or no new property taxes for the fourth straight year.

Peekskill--The City of Peekskill adopted a $55 Million budget with a 3.5% tax increase that exceeds the tax cap. Included in the budget is more than a half-million dollars in revenues from cannabis dispensaries in the city.

Harrison--The Town of Harrison's 2025 $50 Million budget has a tax increase of 1.3%, under the tax cap.

Mt. Vernon--The City Council and Mayor Shawyn Patterson-Howard have proposed a 2025 budget with a 5% property tax increase, 2% over the tax cap.

Eastchester--Homeowners in the Town of Eastchester, not including Bronxville or Tuckahoe, will see a 1% property tax increase (actually 0.97%) next year.

Westchester--County Executive George Latimer has proposed a $2.5 Billion budget plan for 2025 that does not increase the tax levy.

Sign up for tracking alerts, such as USPS' Informed Delivery service, which provides email notifications for incoming mail and packages, to know when your package is scheduled to be delivered. When signing up for tracking alerts, verify that the URL you are using is legitimate. Scammers often solicit potential victims using fraudulent package tracking messages.

If you cannot be home to receive a package, opt to have it delivered to a secure location like a USPS Smart Locker or use the USPS Hold Mail Service. Letters and packages will be held securely at your local Post Office until you return.

Use a doorbell camera or video surveillance system to help deter thieves or assist law enforcement in identifying them.

When mailing something important, consider requesting signature confirmation for the intended recipient or using the Hold for Pickup option, which allows the recipient to collect the package at their local Post Office.

If you suspect your mail was stolen or see a mail theft happening, contact police immediately and then report it to Postal Inspectors by calling (877)-876-2455.

included six who served in World War II, five who served during the Korean War and one who has been serving since 2018. (see attached list of honorees).

Highlights the ceremony included remarks by Bernie Granite who was the only veteran of the 12 honorees who spoke for himself (he served as a medic with the U.S. Army during the Korean War) and Dan Kaufman, the son of parents who both served during World War II—Dan Kaufman (U.S. Navy) and Dorothy Kaufman, who enlisted in the WAVES.

The son spoke eloquently about his Greatest Generation parents and the incredible sacrifices that generation made, many with their lives, to defeat the evil axis powers and assure the survival of freedom in America and the world over. He also proudly told the Girl Scouts that his mother was a life-long Girl Scout, a commitment that spanned more than 80 years.

In addition to family members and friends of the honored veterans, guests included Ardsley Mayor Nancy Kaboolian and other village officials; Alison Bergman, longtime leader of the Ardsley Girl Scouts; Sharon Colabello, lead organizer of the Ardsley Military Tribute Banners initiative, now in its third year; Efrain Hernandez, Commander of Ardsley Post 458; Town of Greenburgh Supervisor Paul Feiner; Ardsley veterans and residents, among others.

The Ardsley Girl Scouts, who each year deliver Girl Scouts cookies and customized cards of appreciation to village veterans on Veterans Day, plan on continuing their new tradition with future Veterans Day Honor Banner Walks.

Devlin J. Lavallee

The Harrison Police Department is pleased to announce the arrest of 19-year-old Devlin J. Lavallee of Middlebury, Connecticut, in connection with the grand larceny of a vehicle in West Harrison, New York.

On the morning of Thursday, November 28, 2024, a West Harrison resident reported suspicious activity to the Harrison Police Department, describing two vehicles—a white Mercedes Benz and a dark colored sedan, later determined to be an Audi A5 - driving along Columbus Avenue. The occupants of the vehicles were observed attempting to pull on door handles of parked cars.

The Audi A5 was pursued by Harrison Police, North Castle Police, Yonkers and Westchester County Police. The vehicle ultimately crashed on Buena Vista Avenue in Yonkers, where the driver fled on foot. After a brief foot chase, Lavallee was apprehended by Westchester County Police.

Upon further investigation, it was determined that the Audi 5 was stolen from West Harrison that morning. Lavallee was transported to Harrison Police headquarters and processed.

Lavallee faces multiple charges, including:

A simple Facebook search on Toys for Tots Westchester will show how many local organizations partner with Steve and Kelly and why we like to give what we can to them every year. They can be trusted to put your donations into the hands of someone who needs a little Christmas joy.

Last month, Steve T gave a "big shout out to the officers of Town of Greenburgh Police Department, who were conducting training in the building being utilized by Toys for Tots - Westchester. The campaign received 8 pallets of toys that will be distributed to children in need within the county. After a long day of extensive training, these officers noticed the Campaign Coordinator Steve Topilnycky breaking down the pallets and moving the toys inside the building. With no Toys for Tots volunteers available this task would take hours to complete. They jumped into action and in no time flat, all 8 pallets were broken down and the cases of toys moved down the ramp into the building gym."

Another option for our readers is to volunteer. Steve and Kelly somehow get the job done every year, but they could use a few helping hands.

Opinion-By Judith

Opinion: By Judith Niewiadomski

The election is over. Some rejoice because they understood the productive executive management of President Trump. Feelings of those who voted for Ms. Harris range from the healthy: bitter disappointment or resignation to pathological rage and grief and fear. Dem voters: put your grief aside; you too will benefit from the new administration. Fear not: you are already safer than you were and the future will be safer under President Trump. Many illegal invaders have already turned back. Traffickers will have fewer people to abuse, American communities will cease to be overwhelmed. Our veterans, homeless and seniors will not be denied as the resources we allotted for them are diverted to invaders. And the root causes that Ms. Harris could never perceive—the love of money and devilish lust for power over others will be fought rather than enabled.

We are already safer because our enemies know that they will not be catered to, feared by or allowed to hurt US under President Trump and his administration. Border Czar Holman is already at the border. Border Patrol agents who retired or resigned in disgust are coming back because they will finally be allowed to do their job. Terrorists and foreign rapists and murderers and drug and sex traffickers will be thwarted and deported, not rewarded. Hundreds of thousands of lives will be saved. The MS13 murder cult and Tren de Aragua will be jailed or deported as individual circumstances determine. (Trump cut MS13's presence by more than half in term one, jailing their leaders and deporting many of them. Tren de Aragua was not in the US during his first term) Securing the border will not just save the lives of Americans, but those the beasts traffic. Everyone should watch and read Newsmax's investigative report on human smuggling. Border Patrol agents summed it up after showing how traffickers abandon people in the desert: "These aren't people to them; they're just money." Biden-Harris lost track of as many as 800,000 children, many of whom were released to traffickers. The Trump administration will make a wholehearted effort to find these children. Be thankful their abusers will be jailed or deported.

Our energy production will rise, cutting prices for everything else. (If you voted for democrats, you can continue to pay higher prices. Gas station owners don't make much profit, which is why most endeavor to sell snacks and other items.) Billions in American taxpayer money will not be diverted from needy Americans and used for invaders who broke federal law and shoved themselves over legal immigrants and American citizens. Small businesses and jobs will expand because of lower costs and elimination of burdensome but unproductive regulations.

Even if they did not vote for President Trump, those who pay taxes will pay less as tax rates are cut, jobs return from abroad and wasteful bureaucratic spending is cut—and the federal government focuses on mandated responsibilities. Change the mindset: government is not the solution to all your problems. God is. He can do more for you than government spending trillions.

Hundreds of thousands of lives will be saved as the wars in Ukraine and Israel end. Recall that Putin dared not invade Ukraine when Trump was President. The head of the European Union is already planning to buy oil and natural gas from the United States as our energy production ramps up, noting that American gas and oil is cheaper. (It is also the cleanest oil in the world.) Biden-Harris's killing of our pipelines and permits and opening of Russia's Nordstream pipeline is how Putin funds his war. Note the hypocrisy of those socialists who have much less distance to ship by pipeline (the safest and least expensive way) that those socialists charge their neighbors more than the United States, even though we free market capitalists have to ship it much longer distances by sea and land. Sanctions against Iran and a real alliance with Israel kept Iran from funding Hamas and Hezbollah. With sanctions restored and a no nonsense President, their ability to make war will be crippled.

No, President Trump will not weaponize the justice department nor the IRS as most presidents of the 20th and 21st centuries did except for Eisenhower, Reagan, and Trump. Lavrenty Beria lawfare at the federal level will end. Trump could have (and should have) prosecuted Hilary and the DNC and numerous others for the Russia collusion fraud—but he didn't. He was too busy doing positive things.

So, whoever you voted for, relax and enjoy the holidays and your family and friends. You will be safer. You will soon have more disposable income and lower expenses as government waste and unauthorized spending is cut—a model that can sustain a more fiscally responsible government for the future. You know better how to spend your money than government bureaucrats. Our fellow Americans in North Carolina got help within a day or two on the backs of mules from Mountain Mule Packers, the Cajun Navy, Samaritan's Purse, Mercy Chefs, and a league of volunteer helicopter pilots while FEMA refused to help people with Trump signs in their yard, and stood around demanding paperwork. Pennsylvania Amish came and put up tiny houses (Cabins for Jesus) for people to stay in as it gets colder, but FEMA wants to take them down and force people back into tents. Kentucky roadbuilders came in and started rebuilding roads while the feds are still pushing papers and saying it would take years. You can do better than distant bureaucrats who never see the pained faces and pressing needs of real people.

Be thankful to God, Who never fails. Don't be a slave and dependent of government; help your neighbor. Your reaching out, however small, is immediate, closer, and more humane. You will get the blessing of seeing someone's life bettered. (And maybe make new friends.) No paperwork, no bureaucracy protecting its power and privilege, just basic human kindness, which will make you happier. Maybe one day, they will be the ones helping you.

Letter to the Editor:

My name is Maranda Zocchi. I am a widowed mother of a 15 year old girl in sports and a 7 year old boy in sports. I am writing to you in concern of our unelected New York State Board of Regents and their expected vote to end Girls in Sports in New York.

Girls in Sports and the building of females having their own space and teams started long before we were all born. In the late 1800's and early 1900's to be exact. All anyone has to do is google and find the statistics. I want to bring attention to the here and now. I will only talk about my experience as a mom. I observe everything.

My daughter at a young age started in Little League baseball on and off. When she approached middle school sports became more obviously significant in her life. I watched all her friends evolve. I watch the coaches and their interaction. As she joined modified girls softball, I observed an even more important aspect of sports. The growth and team approach of our girls forming unity. The work that I as a parent put into her passion for her sports is tremendous.

Why do I do it? On top of being a widowed mom almost 4 years now, sports have introduced major stability in our lives at a time when she had one of two roads to choose. Losing her best friend, her Daddy, was traumatic. The pathway of Pancreatic Cancer was no observation I wanted her to ever endure. As a family we hit it head on. I gave her options at 12 years old. Continue with studying and growth in your sports or, you can take the hard road. Sulk in sadness, do drugs, drink alcohol, do not embrace your studies and have a horrible relationship with both your positive teachers and even worse ruin your 4 year old little brother's life and your family forever.

My daughter has the most amazing group of girl friends (sister-like) in all her sports which includes softball both school and travel, wrestling and volleyball. This group of friends all do sports. From Girls lacrosse, field hockey, track, soccer etc... Through my observation, sports not only enhance keeping the evil things out of their lives but the empowerment and reality is the formation and evolution of girls in sports is sacred on so many levels. Training and the physiological aspects of girls are different from boys. Girls' muscle composition is different. as a whole Girls In Sports is a complete BIO-PSYCHO-SOCIAL well being that we can never allow to be stripped from them because of political disgust. It is within our power to protect and preserve the works, goals accomplished to date and the FUTURE of our Girls to continue this major positive road.

As a mom will not only fight to preserve this for just my beautiful amazing young female athlete but also for all her friends and all of New York Girls in Sports. If I stand alone, then I stand alone. I will not give up. For the state of New York to even propose such a positive aspect of our young females demolish, sickens me. It is quite obvious either the decision makers of this proposal are clueless on the true aspects of harm this proposes on our young female athletes or the decision makers are brainwashed with the governing bodies that feed into false agendas. We can not allow them or anyone following them to impose on our young ladies. I thank you for your time and look forward to continuing to work with you on this topic.

Passionately signed,
Maranda Zocchi

Op-ED:
The illusion with Hollywood and its replacement with the real heroes of social justice
By Clifford Jackson

There is a book called “Fantasyland” by Kurt Anderson. He describes how America has been enveloped and been sold the concept of “fantasy”. This goes back to the early part of the 19th century when it came to the rags to riches themes that were prevalent during that time. The “gold rush” in California was a part of this fantasy of becoming rich where white settler colonialist killed the indigenous population in that area in order to take their land and fulfill their fantasies of getting rich.

It was indeed a fantasy because only the Carnegies, Mellons and the Rockefellers eventually became rich during this century. These ruling families have put forth policies that not only led to the removal and murder of indigenous people via the railroads constructed and the destruction of the ecosystem for profit, but they put in place a economically stratified system that has created poverty that exists to this day. They were able to do this because of the exploitation of slave labor as well as the brutal immigrant labor of the Chinese, Mexicans and poor whites.

PT Barnum said “there is a sucker born every minute.” What he said was a theme that became a part of the way that people were treated daily in this country and how business, especially Wall Street, was done then and to a great extent is still done. That is one of the main reasons why we have a 1933 and 1934 SEC acts as well as a Mutual Funds act of 1940 to mitigate this level of stealing that has been going on on Wall Street from the beginning. Swindling and thievery became the norm as far as how indigenous people lost their land, as well as black farmers also having their land taken by whites.

This theme of selling a fantasy became the theme of the circus environment of Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey Circus and the foundation of Disneyland and Hollywood. These environments were created for profit and to give people the illusion of an escape from what they thought was “the American Dream.” This Hollywood theme like the creation of Las Vegas by Bugsy Seidel has dominated the American cultural scene and conditioned many people to think, especially subliminally, that Hollywood was real in terms of the almost deified images and messages that this institution has relayed. As of 2017 residents of Las Vegas had one of the highest rates of suicide in the country. I wonder why?

We see it today with the malaise that is replete within the American cultural psyche. Daily people are inundated with all of the personal details of the so-called stars of Hollywood and this information like the level of violence reported by the corporate media is a non-stop 24 hour deluge of information that people are fed.

Celebrities are part of the same malaise of exploitation of the American Public. They are not only deified but they replace consciously and subliminally as being the people that millions in this country look up to and define what we like and dislike. Two glaring examples of this deification and importance of Hollywood are Denzel Washington and Whoopie Goldberg. They have replaced in the minds of many human rights heroes like Malcolm X, Lorraine Hansberry, Martin Luther King and Ella Baker as being leaders in our community.

These two examples are a manifestation of how sick this society is as Dr. King said invariably before he was assassinated. These two so-called celebrities, like many others are NOT role models or leaders in the community. They are whores that profit from their acclaim and more importantly have no sense of social justice.

There is a malaise in this country where because of the fantasy and myth of so-called celebrities we are conditioned to attach a level of importance to them that we should not. Goldberg is an ingratiating black woman that is not representative of the struggle of black people in this country. She demonstrated that thirty years ago when her then boyfriend Ted Danson used the N word repeatedly during a roast of her. She defended his use of the n word and attacked other people for condemning Danson’s racist rant. The reason for this defense was Goldbergs ticket to whiteness that has never stopped. I actually spoke to her over the phone around 13 years ago calling into her website I believe and I spoke to the president of her company. He was intrigued about what I had to say and transferred my call to her and I spoke to her for a good 5 minutes. Believe me when I say she is NOT a very educated person about America History. Her constant theme when you see her speak is to diminish the significance of race. That demonstrates her disgustingly ingratiating mentality to white America.

Especially with the racist evil history of this country that exudes in every sector of this country from its inception. She also said “y’all need to be thankful to have the right to vote in this country because it doesn’t happen in a lot of places.” Her searing ignorance doesn’t understand that a vast majority of this country’s history black people not only did not have the right to vote but were maimed shot, lost jobs and were killed trying to vote. Only over the last 50 plus years with the votings rights act of 1965 and other civil rights acts from the 1950’s and 60’s have black people and people of color had the right to vote unmolested.

Louis Farrakhan made this very point of how American history is a LIE in terms of the voting rights of black people and people of color during an interview with Mike Wallace more than 25 years ago. Goldberg’s colleague Anna Navarro is certainly in this category of whoredness. She is typical of white Cuban racism and ignorance, even though she is a very colonized lackey of western colonialism from Nicaragua. Her visceral anti Castro Che Guevara rampages ignores the fact that this “ruthless dictator” helped purge Cuba from being raped for sixty years of colonial dictatorship rule by the United States. The evil Castro gave military and other resources to the people of Angola and Mozambique in 1975 stopping the rape of their respective countries by Portugal. Castro also gave medical and other supplies to the countries of Jamaica and Haiti when in the case of Haiti more than 250,000 people died in the earthquake of 2010. Castro also put an end to the racist apartheid conditions in Santa Clara and Havana under Batista that subjected black Cubans to the same racism that black and native Americans suffered in this country. Also, Castro does not have the ranking like the United States for the last two generations of incarcerating more people than any other country.

She ignores the more than 100,000 civilians killed in El Salvador and Nicaragua by military dictatorships supported by the United States in the 1970’s and 80’s. Fidel Castro does not have blood on his hands like the United States does.

Another clear example of how sick the importance and impact of so called celebrities is in this country. Denzel Washington is no Malcolm X. He is a prostitute for money and acclaim like the aforementioned. When you say as he has said “we are free” and to former congressmen JC watts “I am a fan of George W Bush” as well as not condemning Bush when he was in the throes of slaughtering hundreds of thousands of Iraqis in 2003 to 2006 in his exchange with actress Meryl Streep you are not a role model by any stretch of the imagination. Washington recently said “we are all slaves to information from both sides”. His ignorance and lack of understanding of social justice ignores the fact that one side is looking to obliterate many people that look like him. So there is NO MORAL EQUIVALENT to both sides as he tried to intimate. His statement also shows that his “God is Good” refrain is like many other people of color like him and people in general for that matter that makes his Christianity a categorical fraud. His philanthropy is not doing Gods work as he has said and another prostitute named Oprah Winfrey has said. Fighting the evils of this system that produces the need for philanthropy is doing Gods work. Malcolm X, Lorraine Hansberry, Dr. King and Dorothy Cotton understood that. These so-called celebrities certainly do not and should not be idolized.- Cliff Jackson, Larchmont

St. Mary’s Update, continued from pg 5-

Dear Mr. Tovar et al.,

The Dicastery for the Clergy writes regarding your hierarchical recourse, in conjunction with Ms. Julia Velasco and Mr. Bobby Faah, against the decree of the Archbishop of New York, His Eminence Timothy Cardinal Dolan, dated 31 May 2024 and modified on 8 July last, which joined in an extinctive union the parishes of Saint Peter-Saint Denis-Immaculate Conception(cf.cann.121 and 515 &2).

From the documents provided, it appears that your petition has been legitimately presented within the preemptory time limits to the correct Dicastery. Therefore, this curial Institution, in accordance with Art. 137 &1 of the General Regulations of the Roman Curia, hereby ACCEPTS it for examination, recognizing as the object the aforementioned decree.

This Dicastery has placed itself in correspondence with Cardinal Dolan and will communicate with you again when his response has been studied.

Thanking you for your correspondence, and with assurances of prayers and best wishes, I remain.

Sincerely yours in Christ,
 Lazzaro Cardinal You Heung sik
 Prefect

As is common knowledge, the Church of St. Mary’s has evolved thru the generations that have become a part of the history of Yonkers. And as such, so has the Church. The majority of its parishioners are from the Spanish Community, and members of it are active on its Board of parishioners. By the Decree, issued by Cardinal Dolan, back in late May, there is to be ONLY ONE Mass per week, at 10am on Sundays in English. ALL of the other Masses, both in English & Spanish, are being said at the combined St. Peter – St. Denis. Leaders of this community have attempted to attend these Masses, and have indicated, thru photos & words that there are issues of crowding, lack of available parking spaces in their parking lot, which, in turn, has created illegal parking along Ludlow Street, and Riverdale Avenue.

Thus, many & most of these Spanish speaking families have stayed at St. Mary’s Church, and attend the single Sunday Mass @10am, after they conduct the rosary outside of the Church, on the street or in the rear parking lot. Some walk over to the Grotto of Our Lady of Guadalupe, next to St. Mary’s Hall, to conclude their morning.

Lastly, but certainly not less significant, is the announcement that our group, St. Mary’s Friends has launched our web site, st-marysfriendsorg.com

We welcome you & everyone to view the wonderful history of St. Mary’s, its creation, as it intertwines with the growth of Yonkers, and its myriad of immigrants that have made Yonkers what it is, and what it will be, for all generations that call it home!

Thus, we will be sharing this site with any & all individuals that have had their own lives ‘touched’ by St. Mary’s, in hope that they can join our cause, both via donations, as well as pro bono assistance in the areas of Civil Engineering, Accounting/Finance, and Media Communications.

I speak for every member of our small, but hard working Friends of St. Mary’s to ask for your professional assistance via Print & Social Media at Yonkers Rising and The Yonkers Times.

Wishing you & your families a Happy Thanksgiving!

At their July 16 special meeting, the Yonkers City Council unanimously adopted a resolution to Landmark St. Mary’s Church.

ties treat on-campus, peaceful student protests. UN Rapporteur Gina Romero reports that from 2023-2024, pro-Palestine student protests across the world have faced protest bans, restrictions on rights to assembly and arbitrary arrests. She urges universities to refrain from falsely citing hate speech as a reason for restricting and villainizing peaceful protests.

“The actions taken next by the Sarah Lawrence administration will have an impact on international precedents for institutional responses to on-campus peaceful protests. If punitive action is taken against participating student protestors (revocation of financial aid, scholarships and potential expulsion), then Sarah Lawrence will be adding to a global climate that has made peaceful protesting increasingly dangerous to those involved. Making it more difficult to organize peacefully without punishment is a form of censorship.

“Whether disapproval of the protestors’ message or concern for campus operations is at the heart of restricting student protests is a moot point. The fact is that the actions that the administrators take to punish and prevent sit-ins silence student voices. For a student body that already does not feel heard by the administration, the next step could mean everything for admin-student relations,” <https://sarahlawrencephoenix.com/opinions/2024/11/21/ensuring-student-rights-to-protest-sjps-international-walkout-for-divestment-and-arms-embargonbsp>.

Yonkers NAACP Ordered to Cease & Desist All Activities

The Westchester Story Lab Empowering Families to Change Systems

Due to Noncompliance in Filing Annual Financial Report

By Dan Murphy

“The Rev. Frank Coleman, Jr, President of the Yonkers NAACP, sent a letter to members on Nov. 25 which states, “As discussed in our recent general membership meetings, our branch is non-compliant because our Annual Financial Report (AFR) has not been submitted to the National Office by Raquel Ali who was our Treasurer, and she has since resigned.

“Because we are noncompliant, we received a letter from the National office instructing us to cease and desist all activity pertaining to our election that was scheduled for November 25th from 7:00 p.m. – 11:00 p.m. via Election Buddy. Subsequently, we were instructed by our Regional Director, Wilbur Aldridge, that this cease and desist also pertains to all branch activities, including meetings. Therefore, the November 25th meeting is canceled.

“We will hear from National once we are in compliance. Thank you all for your support, and we will keep you informed,” writes Coleman, President of NAACP-YONKERS BRANCH #2188.

One of the newer members said that NAACP Yonkers Branch #2188 has been having “constant problems” in recent months. Rev. Coleman announced at the last meeting that he would be stepping down from his position.

A new election was set for tonight, Nov. 25, before this announcement. “The members deserve an explanation as to what is going on,” said the member.

It is estimated that the branch has around 50 members.

More information will be provided as it becomes available.

This event is dedicated to empowering families impacted by the CPS and family court systems. It offers a supportive platform for families to share their experiences, understand their rights, and work toward constructive solutions for systemic improvement. With a focus on advocacy and community leadership, we aim to foster collaboration and increase awareness around the need for family-centered reform. A highlight of the event will be a Story Lab workshop led by Piper Anderson. In this workshop, local community leaders and family advocates will learn advocacy-building techniques to advance community well-being. The workshop is designed to equip attendees with practical skills to drive positive change and strengthen family integrity. Participants must pre-register for this event. This workshop also includes a phenomenal line up of panelists and speakers.

This event will be hosted by Westchester Justice for Families and sponsored by 914United and the Redlich Foundation. In attendance will be Piper Anderson the co-founder of the Rikers Public Memory Project, Tiffany Hamilton the CEO of YWCA of White Plains and many local Westchester Elected Officials.
