County Executive Jenkins & Yonkers Rising Endorse Lakisha Collins-Bellamy for City Council President in Democratic Primary June 24

Council President Lakisha Collins Bellamy with County Executive Ken Jenkins

Westchester County Executive Ken Jenkins, a Yonkers resident for all of his life, has endorsed Lakisha Collins-Bellamy for reelection as Yonkers City Council President.

We agree with Jenkins and with Mayor Mike Spano, who has also endorsed Collins-Bellamy, and our newspaper and website endorse her reelection for one main reason.

She has served the people of Yonkers with integrity, calm and reasonableness. We are impressed by the way she presides over the council and there is no reason, in our view, to change paths and remove her from office.

The reelection of Collins-Bellamy also fits into a larger narrative about the City of Yonkers that Mayor Spano likes to talk

Yonkers Attorney Arrested for Threatening Judge

Acting State Supreme Court Judge Susan Capeci

Westchester County District Attorney Susan Cacace announced that a Yonkers man was arrested and charged with Aggravated Harassment of a Judge, a class E felony, for allegedly sending threatening communications to acting state Supreme Court Justice Susan M. Capeci.

Nicholas Leo, 57, of Yonkers, was arraigned Friday afternoon before White Plains City Court Judge John P. Collins Jr. He was remanded to the Westchester County Jail pending further proceedings. Judge Collins further issued a temporary order of protection on behalf of Justice Capeci.

DA Cacace said: "At a time of increasing threats to members of the judiciary, the defendant's alleged

Yonkers DWP Debuts New Sustainable Mower

Yonkers Mayor Mike Spano and the Yonkers Department of Public Works (DPW) recently announced the City acquired the Raymo Remote Electric Slope Mower to tackle steep terrain on large City properties, such as the Sprain Reservoir Dam.

The mower is remote-controlled and equipped with all-terrain wheels. Use of the unit minimizes the risk of injury to DPW employees who no longer need to traverse hills with maintenance equipment. The battery technology also eliminates fuel costs, and workers who operate it will no longer have prolonged exposure to fumes from gas-powered maintenance equipment.

“This initiative helps protect our employees while getting the job done effectively and efficiently,” said Mayor Spano. “We are continually researching ways to reduce our carbon footprint and remain ecologically sensitive to larger properties like the reservoir – and the electric slope mower gets that done. I applaud DPW’s efforts in moving the city forward to a cleaner, greener, more sustainable Yonkers.”

Department of Public Works Commissioner Thomas G. Meier said, “Utilizing the latest innovations in clean energy technology, this powerful remote-operated slope mower enables us to more efficiently maintain City properties with significantly reduced labor and fuel costs, lower risk of injury to our workforce, and contributes toward achieving Mayor Spano’s ambitious climate action goals.”

“Under the leadership of Mayor Spano, the City of Yonkers continues to be on the cutting edge of innovation,” said Director of the Mayor’s Office of Sustainability William Serratore. “This new vehicle is fast, efficient, and dramatically lowers our carbon footprint.”

Welcome Back Eric Schoen! I'm Lost in Yonkers! Again!

By Eric Wolf Schoen

So Elon Musk brings his son to the White House several weeks ago. The kid looks at President Trump as some kind of maniac, having minimal eye contact. Basically, the kid was dissing Mr. Trump and Trump was ignoring the kid. So you did you really think the friendship between Trump and the kids father Elon Musk would be long lasting?

Friends, after 4 months, December 17 to the end of April I was a patient in hospitals in New Jersey and New York and a Rehabilitation facility I am proud to say that I'm back in Yonkers enjoying life. Eating Yonkers pizza and enjoying real Yonkers bagels.

Due to my scoliosis and Parkinson's I was losing strength in my right leg, and the orthopedist and the neurologist both agreed it was time to operate to clean out the spine. They did just. I was supposed to go home the next day, Infection set in, a high fever developed, and it was all down from there.

Central Avenue has taken on a new look. The last time I visited Ground Round a friend and her family had just finished purchasing the restaurant. With the exception of the peanuts on the floor and my friend and her family and my party of 2 we were the only people in the place. It didn't last long, and neither did Boulder Creek steakhouse which followed. The property was empty for so long so that when I came back from my medical 'vacation' I was shocked to see a big building in its place. I wish the owners of the business that will occupy that space good luck in their endeavor.

It seems like everyday a business is opening downtown whether it be a restaurant or other top notch place. Full storefronts are good for a the cof

People are driving crazy so be careful if you take your car for a spin. We need more Police Guarding our streets and ticketing those making travel in Yonkers so difficult for others. The roads are shared roads remember that.

One thing that shocked me was the Mayor's appointment to the School Board. We don't need people who steal food from Yonkers families on Thanksgiving on prestigious boards and commissions governing our city. Have we forgotten that people went hungry on Thanksgiving due to Lorraine Lopez antics. There are many qualified individuals in Yonkers to serve on Boards and Commissions. This appointment is a big disappointment, and Mayor Spano knows better than to put Lopez on a Board protecting our children.

On a positive note I have heard many good things going on in our schools. Anibal Solar has done a good job taking over the Yonkers Schools. We wish him continued success.

So I am back, Lost in Yonkers again. Kudos to Mayor Spano for a job well done while I was gone. Isn't I truly amazing what you miss being away 4 month. May the sun shine over Yonkers.

Letter to the Editor

I would like to remind county legislator Nolan about the posse comitatus Act which helps protect citizens from Armed Federal Combat troops acting in the role of Law Enforcement. The problem Democrats have is that "king Trump" wants to test every part of our constitution and would love to have federal troops patrolling our streets, especially in blue cities, as his first step to declaring marshal law. I am providing you some basic information on the posse Comitatus act

"In the United States, a federal statute known as the Posse Comitatus Act, enacted in 1878, forbids the use of the US Army (and, as amended, the US Air Force, Navy, Marine Corps and Space Force as a posse comitatus or for law enforcement purposes without the approval of Congress.[14] The act originally did not mention branches of the military other than the Army (and subsequently the Air Force after its establishment), leading the US Department of the Navy and the US Secretary of Defense, US_Secretary_of_Defense) to prescribe equivalent regulations prohibiting the use of other branches for domestic law enforcement.[15][16] In 2021, the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2022 (https://en.m.wikipedia.org/wiki/National_Defense_Authorization_Act_for_Fiscal_Year_2022) amended the Act to formally apply the same restrictions to the domestic use of the Navy, Marine Corps, and Space Force.[17] The limitation does not apply to the National Guard of the United States (https://en.m.wikipedia.org/wiki/National_Guard_of_the_United_States) when activated by a state's governor (https://en.m.wikipedia.org/wiki/Governor_\(United_States\))) and operating under Title 32 of the US Code (https://en.m.wikipedia.org/wiki/Title_32_of_the_United_States_Code), such as deployments by state governors in response to Hurricane Katrina [18]

The President seems to be concerned with possible insurrection, maybe he should have concerned himself with those already tried and convicted for crimes on January 6 instead of pardoning all those who actually promote and support insurrection, attacked our capital and threatened our elected lawmakers.

Legislator Nolan, there is a saying all politics are local, what happens in L.A. county can happen in Westchester County don't let the Republican rhetoric fool you!

Board Celebrates Caribbean American Heritage Month

The Westchester County Board of Legislators celebrated Caribbean American Heritage Month on Monday night with a ceremony honoring two exceptional individuals: Horace E. Anderson, Jr., Dean of Pace University's Elisabeth Haub School of Law and champion of expanding educational opportunities and Annmarie Smith, longtime Yonkers public education advocate and community leader.

Board Chairman Vedat Gashi (D- New Castle, Ossining, Somers, Yorktown), who convened the ceremony and welcomed guests, said, "We are proud to honor Dean Horace Anderson, Jr. and Annmarie Smith, two exemplary Caribbean Americans whose contributions to education and public service embody the values we celebrate during Caribbean American Heritage Month. Dean Anderson's journey from first-generation American to pioneering legal educator, and Ms. Smith's four decades of advocacy for Yonkers students, demonstrate the profound impact Caribbean Americans have made in Westchester County. Their dedication to mentorship and community advancement reflects the rich heritage we celebrate this month."

Majority Leader Tyrae Woodson-Samuels (D- Mount Vernon) said, "It is a distinct honor to recognize Dean Horace Anderson, Jr. during Caribbean Heritage Month. As the first Black dean in the history of the Elisabeth Haub School of Law at Pace University, Dean Anderson has demonstrated exemplary leadership, elevating the Law School's national standing and expanding its impact within our community. His commitment to fostering academic excellence, advancing diversity within the legal profession, and championing innovative programs in environmental law, social justice, and civic engagement has set a remarkable standard. We celebrate Dean Anderson as a distinguished leader and an outstanding representative of the Caribbean American community, whose contributions continue to enrich our institutions and inspire future generations."

Legislator Shanae Williams (D- Yonkers) said, "During Caribbean American Heritage Month, we honor the rich cultural legacy and contributions of Caribbean Americans in Westchester County as a whole. Annmarie Smith embodies that spirit through her unwavering dedication to public service and education advocacy. Her tireless work on behalf of Yonkers families makes her a shining example of the power and impact one person can have. She helps strengthen communities and makes a difference in our city for many generations to come."

To the Editor, Mike Lawler has Failed Us

During the 118th Congress and throughout the 119th session, it has been clear that Representative Mike Lawler has used his position not to serve the needs of the Lower Hudson Valley, but to advance the extreme MAGA Project 2025 agenda at the expense of his own constituents.

Time and again, Lawler has prioritized partisan politics over the real concerns of New Yorkers—rising costs, affordable health care, and common sense immigration reform.

Lawler's voting record is out of step with our community's values. He has voted to slash Medicaid and food assistance for millions of low-income Americans, to restrict reproductive freedom and voting rights, and to cut funding for education and programs that help working families.

Instead of focusing on lowering costs or improving health care, Lawler has pushed legislation that would raise health care costs for over 100 million Americans with pre-existing conditions, and roll back protections for women, workers and children.

The Congressional Budget Office (CBO), a non-partisan forecasting office within the U.S. Congress released its newest estimates of the provisions of the "One Big Beautiful Bill Act" that Lawler was the deciding vote on. This bill will result in $3.8 trillion in tax cuts and $1.2 trillion in spending cuts, and will cause 16 million people to lose their health insurance nationwide (1.5 million in New York). The high cost of these tax cuts, which overwhelmingly benefit high earners and business interests, will increase the federal deficit by $2.4 trillion.

On immigration, Lawler campaigned on securing the border, but he has failed to deliver solutions. Instead, he has supported divisive, conspiracy-driven bills that do nothing to fix our broken system, while voting against bipartisan proposals that could actually help make a difference. And now, to add to his divisive policies, he supports military intervention at home. He plays the "world-class hater" Steve Miller's inciteful tune "insurrection".

He has also dismissed the rule of law and defended his party's MAGA figurehead, even after felony convictions, despite previously claiming he would not support Trump if convicted. And since then, Trump has pardoned one criminal after another (including a major online drug dealer) and Lawler remains silent. And while Lawler is silent on pardoning criminals he wasn't silent at his Mahopac Town Hall stating that he supports the decision to put National Guard and Marines on the streets of LA against the will of the Governor and Mayor, to intimidate peaceful protesters.

Lawler follows Trump's lead by using, and continuing to use, the Jewish community as a prop. He, like Trump, states his unwavering support for Israel and his vows against antisemitism without speaking up against domestic white nationalists like Steve Bannon and Elon Musk.

We deserve much better than Mike (Go Along to Get Along) Lawler's record of failed leadership and misplaced priorities.

Sincerely,
Mark A. Lieberman, Yorktown, NY

County Exec. Jenkins Signs Legislation to Strengthen Westchester’s Consumer Protection Laws

Westchester County Executive Ken Jenkins has signed into law an update to the County’s Consumer Protection Code, modernizing the legislation to better address deceptive business practices and protect residents from 21st-century scams—including online and AI-driven fraud.

The new law gives County inspectors broader authority and new tools to investigate complaints and enforce consumer protections. Among its key provisions are the expansion of prohibited business practices, stronger penalties, and increased power to recoup losses for defrauded consumers.

Jenkins said: “This legislation is about protecting the people of Westchester County from dishonest and unethical business practices. Whether it’s hidden fees, subscription traps, or AI scams, this law ensures that our residents have a stronger layer of protection. I thank the Board of Legislators for their support and collaboration in moving this important bill forward.”

Westchester County Department of Consumer Protection Director Jim Maisano said: “We’re seeing a new wave of consumer fraud, often driven by technology and online deception. This law gives us the tools we need to fight back—ensuring that Westchester consumers are not only protected but that businesses engaging in fraudulent practices are held accountable.”

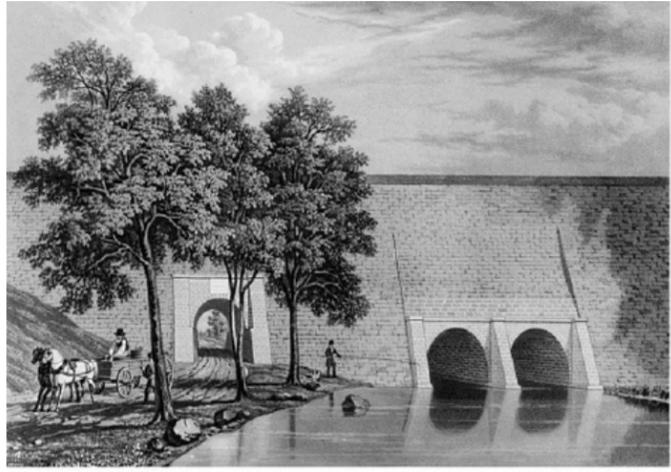

The legislation was passed unanimously by the Westchester County Board of Legislators and was co-authored by Legislators Colin D. Smith and David T. Imamura.

County Board Chairman Vedat Gashi said: “Today marks a historic step in protecting Westchester County consumers. I thank County Executive Jenkins for signing this vital law and commend the legislators for sponsoring and unanimously passing it. Together, we are defending the hard-earned money of working people. When businesses use hidden fees and subscription traps to drain bank accounts, they exploit our residents, seniors, and small businesses. We are proud to send a unified message: Westchester won’t tolerate companies that profit by preying on the vulnerable.”

Legislator Colin D. Smith said: “As Chair of the Board’s Committee on Legislation and co-author of this bill, I’m proud to stand with County Executive Jenkins and Legislator Imamura to announce the signing of the Consumer Protection Bill into law. This critical legislation enhances protections for Westchester residents and small businesses, addressing modern threats like AI-driven scams and misleading subscription practices. Our community deserves transparency and strong safeguards — and this new law provides exactly that by modernizing and reinforcing consumer rights to prevent abuse.”

Legislator David T. Imamura said: “Thank you, County Executive Jenkins for signing this important legislation taking a stand for Westchester consumers. When the federal government effectively halts its consumer protection laws, Westchester County is stepping up to the plate to fill the gap. This legislation not only strengthens the County’s consumer protection laws, it enhances the County’s ability to enforce those laws.”

June 23, 1780: Grenadier and British regiments pitched camp at the Philipse Manor House.

June 23, 1917: To kick off the Red Cross seven-day drive to raise $100,000 for war work, Alexander Smith Cochran donated $25,000.

June 23, 1928: The first full-length film feature with words presented in Westchester County opened at the Strand Theater.

“Tenderloin,” a swift moving crime drama, starred Conrad Nagle and Dolores Costello. Produced and released by Warner Brothers and directed by Michael Curtiz, it was considered Curtiz’s most daring film.

It was a sound part-talkie crime film; in addition to sequences with clear conversation sequences, the film featured intertitles, i.e., text displayed on the screen.

June 24, 1929: Sir Mortimer Singer, High Sheriff of the County of Berkshire and Yonkers native, died in London. Son of Isaac Merritt Singer, inventor of the Singer sewing machine, he was born in Yonkers July 25th, 1863. His parents later moved to France, then England at the start of the 1870 Franco-Prussian War. After studying at Cambridge, he became a naturalized British citizen about 1900. Sir Mortimer was named a Knight of the British Empire in 1920.

June 24, 1943: Nodine Hill men, mostly war workers, lost sleep because of a “peeping tom!” Children in the neighborhood were afraid of him and refused to play outside after dinner. War workers returning home at midnight were afraid to go to sleep until daylight; they wanted to keep watch over their families.

Neighborhood air raid wardens searched the area every night; if they spotted someone suspicious, they blew whistles, and area residents ran out to join the search.

YPD detectives answered an early morning call to find more than 40 people armed with rocks, clubs, pipers, bricks and other makeshift weapons. Why? Someone had attempted to sneak into 110 Webster Avenue.

June 24, 1943: After meeting with a representative of a large American tobacco company, Mayor Benjamin Barnes suggested the Common Council create a “City Hall Cigaret Fund,” to buy discounted cigarettes for overseas soldiers.

The War Department stopped sending overseas packages from civilians and asked tobacco companies to come up with their own schemes to send cigarettes to American servicemen. Each pack of cigarettes cost five cents and was labeled as a gift from the people of Yonkers. They then were shipped by convoy to the men overseas.

CITY OF YONKERS AWARDED HIGHEST ACHIEVEMENT IN GOVERNMENTAL ACCOUNTING AND FINANCIAL REPORTING

City's Department of Finance Awarded Certificate of Achievement for Excellence by Government Finance Officers Association of the United States and Canada (GFOA)

On June 16, Yonkers Mayor Mike Spano announced the Government Finance Officers Association of the United States and Canada (GFOA) has awarded the Certificate of Achievement for Excellence in Financial Reporting to the City of Yonkers for its annual comprehensive financial report for the fiscal year that ended June 30, 2024.

The Certificate of Achievement is the highest form of recognition in the area of governmental accounting and financial reporting, and its attainment represents a significant accomplishment by a government and its management.

"Our talented and professional finance team, led by Commissioner John Liszewski, has put Yonkers back on the path towards fiscal stability," said Mayor Spano. "This award, along with our strong bond ratings, recognizes the transparent and diligent work demonstrated by them each day, supporting our city and residents. Congratulations and keep up the great work!"

The report was judged by an impartial panel to meet the high standards of the program, which includes demonstrating a constructive "spirit of full disclosure" to clearly communicate its financial story and motivate potential users and user groups to read the report.

"Receiving the Certificate of Achievement for Excellence in Financial Reporting is a reflection of our department's unwavering commitment to transparency, accountability, and the highest standards in public financial management," said Commissioner of Finance John Liszewski. "This recognition from GFOA underscores our efforts to provide residents, stakeholders, and policymakers with clear, comprehensive, and trustworthy financial information."

The GFOA established the Certificate of Achievement for Excellence in Financial Reporting Program (COA) in 1945 to encourage and assist state and local governments to go beyond the minimum requirements of generally accepted accounting principles to prepare annual comprehensive financial reports that evidence the spirit of transparency and full disclosure and then to recognize individual governments that succeed in achieving that goal. The goal of the program is not to assess the financial health of participating governments, but rather to ensure that users of their financial statements have the information they need to do so themselves. GFOA advances excellence in government finance by providing best practices, professional development, resources, and practical research for more than 25,000 members and the communities they serve.

Hudson River Patriots Chapter NDAR Presents Books to Yonkers Schools

Hudson River Patriots Regent Emeritus Philomena Dunn, Social Studies Teacher Victoria Butler, Hudson River Patriots Regent Cindy Pramann, City of Yonkers Historian Mary Hoar

With the 250th anniversary celebration of the Declaration of Independence in 2026, the Hudson River Patriots Chapter of the National Daughters of the Revolution (NDAR) received a National DAR grant to purchase books focused on the American Revolution for classrooms in their local area. The grant was designed to help students learn about the Revolutionary War, our soldiers, patriots and all men and women who contributed to our freedom.

After careful deliberation of submissions from Chapters throughout the country, the National DAR selected the Hudson River Patriots Chapter NDAR to receive one of the grants! After thorough investigation of potential area recipients, Hudson River Patriots selected two Yonkers schools, Sacred Heart School and Montessori School #31, to receive Revolutionary War themed books to help students learn what happened in the Neutral Zone, Yonkers and our Westchester area, during those times.

The chapter used the grant to purchase books selected by Social Studies' teachers at both schools.

The Hudson River Patriots Chapter, NDAR, was organized in 2001 when three long-standing chapters merged to better meet the needs of women in the Rivertowns of Westchester County; these chapters were Yonkers' Keskeskick Chapter organized in 1895, the Tarrytown Chapter organized in 1925, and Hastings' General Jacob Odell Chapter organized in 1932. This project was organized by Hudson River Patriot Regent Cindy Pramann and Regent Emeritus Philomena Dunn.

Maria Regina HS Student Wins Honorable Mention in "You Can Make a Difference" Poster Contest

Alia Rabadi of Yonkers, a Maria Regina High School student, was among a select group of 10 young artists from across the U.S. who earned Honorable Mention in The Christophers' 35th Annual Poster Contest for High School Students focused on the theme, "You Can Make A Difference."

In a letter Alia received from The Christophers announcing her win, she was told: "Your work was chosen from close to 300 posters submitted by students... Your work was noteworthy for its artistic merit, originality, effectiveness in conveying the theme. We hope your participation was inspiring and thought-provoking and that you will continue to develop and use your special gifts to help make the world a brighter place, one candle at a time."

Alia received a $100 check for her poster (attached image), a collage of some of the notable student-led service programs of the renowned all-girls Catholic high school that help make a difference in the school's communities

The mission of The Christophers, www.Chritophers.org, founded 80 years ago by Father James Keller, M.M., is to "encourage people of all ages, from all walks of life to use their God-given talents to make a positive difference in the world."

Yonkers Celebrates Eighth Annual Pride Festival

By: Dennis Richmond, Jr.

Not even the rain could dampen Yonkers' vibrant spirit on Saturday, June 14, 2025, as the 8th Annual Pride Festival transformed Main Street into a joyful celebration of love, inclusion, and community pride.

Despite gray skies and steady showers, crowds turned out with umbrellas in hand and hearts wide open. Rainbow flags flew above ponchos and raincoats, while laughter echoed through the streets as festivalgoers danced, posed for photos, and embraced the day—clouds and all.

Roosevelt HS Val & Sal

By Dan Murphy

Congratulations to Roosevelt High School Valedictorian Alexandra Daley and Salutatorian Andres Arroyave.

RHS Valedictorian Alexandra Daley will graduate with a 103.14 GPA. Her favorite teacher is Ann Marie Donohue, her kindergarten teacher at School 22. "She is the one teacher who always stuck with me. I still visit her—she is everything I want to be," said Daley.

Alexandra's favorite class at Roosevelt is Foundations in Education, taught by Mrs. Schwan. "It helped me get a look into what I want to do, which is to become a teacher. I'm passionate about it."

Daley played on the Varsity Volleyball team and served as a Yonkers Police Cadet. "I joined in my freshman year. It's a program that teaches you about becoming a police officer and provides classes in physical and mental fitness, as well as forensics. It was really educational, and when I first joined, I wanted to join the FBI."

Alexandra was accepted into SUNY New Paltz, Manhattan, SUNY Oneonta, Pace, SUNY Cortland, Manhattanville, Adelphi, Iona, Marist, Fairfield, Providence, Fordham, and Mercy Colleges. She will be attending Marist University in the fall.

"It's been my dream school from the beginning. I like their program, and I can complete both my bachelor's and master's degrees in five years. It's on the expensive side, but my parents pushed me to go there," said Daley, who will be majoring in Early Childhood Education and hopes to get her Master's Degree in Special Education and then become an elementary school teacher.

"I always wanted to become a teacher, and my parents thought I would make a great teacher. I like being creative and working with kids. I enjoy interacting with younger students, and being a special education teacher would be an ideal job."

Alexandra said she likes Roosevelt High School for "its sense of community."

"I was shy coming into Roosevelt and super nervous about making friends. I joined the volleyball team, and the girls were so welcoming. There were no clicks, it was easy to make friends, and my teachers were kind and supportive."

She thanked her parents for helping her reach this point of academic achievement. "My mom was always motivating me and pushing me, especially in my senior year."

Do you have any advice for future valedictorians? "Find a balance between school work and well-being. Don't let your grades consume all of your thoughts; make sure you enjoy your time and have fun. You don't get to experience high school twice."

Daley said that she started taking notice of the rankings in her first year, and she enjoyed a friendly rivalry with Salutatorian Andres Arroyave through their years at Roosevelt for who had the best grades.

Alexandra said that while she would consider returning to Yonkers to teach, she would probably move out of state to Massachusetts or Connecticut.

RHS Salutatorian Andres Arroyave will graduate with a 101.96 GPA. His favorite teacher is Mr. Giancaspro, Business Law. "I've taken his classes in my junior and senior years. He makes connections with his students and is a kind person to speak with about your day."

His favorite subjects are Math and Gym. Andres has played soccer for most of his life and has been a member of the varsity soccer team at Roosevelt for all four years. "After COVID, we grew the program at Roosevelt because there were so many middle school students who wanted to come to Roosevelt to play soccer. Now, we have a JV and a varsity team. Last year, we went undefeated and made the sectionals. We also won the city tournament this year."

Another enjoyable extra-curricular activity for Andres was his participation in Unified Basketball. "We help special education students play basketball. The way they got so excited touched me. We had a team of students who played against other schools, and every time they made a basket, it brightened up your day."

Andres was accepted into Penn State, Marist, Mercy, and Manhattan colleges and will be attending Pace University in the fall on a full scholarship. "I was looking to play soccer, and I got a good financial package to play and study computer science at Pace. I will be staying in the dorms at Pleasantville."

"I wanted to stay close to home so that I could still have that connection to my mom and my sister. I want to come home on weekends. Initially, I applied to be a commuter student, but my parents and coaches advised that, as a first-year student-athlete, it was best to live on campus and get accustomed to college life."

Andres will major in computer science and hopes to learn website design as a potential career path. "During the pandemic, I gained an interest in computer science, making video games, and making websites. I built my own desktop and had a passion for it. I decided that it is the major to go for in college."

But Andres will continue to pursue his dream of one day playing professional soccer, and he enjoyed his years at Roosevelt.

"All of my counselors and teachers were open to feedback and willing to work with us. When one student came forward with the idea of a spring formal, they helped us."

Who helped you get to this point of academic achievement? "My parents, they always supported me and helped me with any opportunity, like driving me to soccer tryouts."

How did you balance playing soccer all 4 years and being the Salutatorian? "Having a balance can be challenging. I had to stay up late on some nights to meet deadlines. But time management is the most important thing."

How did playing soccer help you build your character? "I was in a shell going into high school and was very shy. In my junior and senior years, I was named Captain, and I took the leadership role and ran with it. I flourished on the field, and my coach said that I am more like a man now and know how to take charge."

We Endorse: Dean Politopolous For City Council President Republican Primary June 24

Republicans in Yonkers have a primary, already underway in early voting and on primary day on June 24, with Dean Politopolous and Ron Schutte facing off to see who will be the GOP's nominee to be on the ballot in November for Yonkers City Council President.

Politopolous is a retired Yonkers Police Officer, who served for many years as the YPD's director of information. This experience makes him knowledgeable when talking to voters about crime but also in articulating his message to drive voters to cast their vote for him.

Ron Schutte is running as the outsider, with a slogan United we can dismantle the Yonkers Political Syndicate. His two key issues are restoring term limits and protecting local zoning.

The two participated in a League of Women voters debate where both men were civil to each other and each showed knowledge of the issues facing the city.

At the Yonkers GOP Convention earlier this year, Politopolous got 73% of the support of the district leaders and rank and file Yonkers republicans.

He also has the support of most of the prominent republicans in Yonkers and Westchester County, notably Congressman Mike Lawler, Assemblyman Matt Slatyer, and one of our favorites, former Councilman John Larkin.

While some of Schutte's thoughts on reforming Yonkers government and offering an alternative voice are appealing, Politopolous has a higher ceiling which could resonate in the general election.

And his experience in the Yonkers Police Department is a benefit in a Republican Primary.

The event was a testament to resilience. Highlights included a free 360-degree photo booth, a colorful Pride-themed playground, a bubble show that filled the air with shimmering orbs, and a dunk tank made even more entertaining by the rain. Dozens of vendors and advocacy organizations, including the Westchester County Human Rights Commission, lined the sidewalks offering resources, merchandise, and messages of support.

Headliner Lana Ja'Rae lit up the stage with a high-energy performance that had the crowd dancing through the drizzle. Raindrops became rhythm as music, movement, and unity took over Main Street. "The energy made me forget it was raining," one attendee shared.

Yonkers native Laura Estevez, a proud alumna of the Yonkers Partners in Education (YPIE) program, smiled through it all. "I feel good," she said. "I'm always thrilled to participate." Now a volunteer, Estevez credits Yonkers with shaping her identity—and says giving back is her way of saying thank you. "This city taught me how to show up, rain or shine."

Christine J. Klein, a longtime real estate and legal professional, also showed her support. "I love coming out and supporting the community," she said. Klein, who has decades of experience in estate planning, family law, and name and gender marker changes, emphasized the ongoing need for LGBTQ+ legal advocacy and representation.

Former Yonkers City Council President Chuck Lesnick, now running for office again, mingled with festivalgoers and celebrated the city's continued progress. Brentin Bullock also attended, joined by friends and family.

As music pulsed, one thing was clear: Yonkers Pride isn't about the weather—it's about the will to celebrate who we are. For eight years strong, that spirit has never wavered—and it shows no signs of stopping.

Dennis Richmond, Jr. (@NewYorkStakz) is a journalist, historian, and educator from Yonkers, NY. He writes to uplift unheard voices, honor history, and inspire change.

about alot. That the current progress in the City of Yonkers, and its more than 200,000 people, should continue.

Collins-Bellamy has been talking about the same theme on the campaign trail. She promised more education funding, support of the police, keeping property taxes under control, and supporting smart development.

All of these things have been accomplished under Mayor Spano's watch and with Collins-Bellamy leading the City Council.

This pair has done well for the people of Yonkers, and we would like to see more.

Mayor Spano is clearly the most popular politician in Yonkers. He has worked with most of the other democrats running for council president, and has decided to put his political capital with Collins-Bellamy.

We also appreciate the fact that you don't get any drama with Lakisha. It's all business and very little self promotion. While unheard of in Yonkers politics, it's a breath of fresh air.

Collins-Bellamy also has the support and endorsement from the Yonkers Democratic Committee.

Why then, you may ask, have so many democrats stepped up to challenge an incumbent, Black female democrat who has done no wrong? You can come to your own conclusions on that question.

There has been no plausible argument presented by her opponents as to why Collins-Bellamy should not serve for another four years.

We believe that she has earned another term, and that together with Mayor Spano, they can keep the train that is the City of Yonkers, moving full steam ahead.

Vote for Lakisha Collins-Bellamy in the Democratic primary on June 24.

Political Shockwave: DA Investigating Khader

“Based on New Information, We Have Retained the Case” Against former Council President

Findings in Independent IG’s Report of No Rent Payments and Quid Pro Quo-Unresolved

By Dan Murphy

Editor’s Note: In the June 13 issue of Yonkers Rising, we reported on the fact that an independent report from the Yonkers IG, concerning Council President candidate Mike Khader, was in the possession of Westchester DA Susan Cacace’s office. Since that story, the DA’s office emailed us two comments. The first, was that the Khader matter was being referred to the Ethics Board, and not the IG, for review.

Then the final correspondence we received from Cacace’s office was that “Based on new information, we are retaining the matter and not sending it to the Ethics Board.” This statement confirms that Cacace’s office was reviewing the IG report against Khader and “based on new evidence,” will continue to conduct their investigation.

Below is the story that ran in Yonkers Rising on June 13.

An independent report found that former Council President Mike Khader did not make rent payments for law office space he rented from an attorney who then got a Yonkers taxpayer-funded job in the possession of Westchester District Attorney Susan Cacace’s office. We asked Cacace’s office about the status of their review and were told, “We have referred the matter back to the Yonkers IG.”

Yonkers Inspector Liam McLaughlin issued a report from an independent law firm and investigator in 2024 which found that Khader “admitted that he did not pay rent to SBJ from in or about March 2017 until in or about December 2018. In an apparent attempt to improperly interfere with, obstruct, or otherwise hinder this investigation, Khader provided conflicting reasons for not paying rent.”

In public comments since then, Khader has continued to call the allegations against him a witch hunt and nonsense. However, the fact remains that Khader has not provided proof or an explanation as to why there are no checks or evidence of payments showing that he made the rent payments in question.

Here’s the timeline of events:

Khader served as Council President from 2017 to 2021 and is running in a Democratic primary on June 24 to return to that office. In 2021, Khader was running for reelection when allegations surfaced in the media of a “Quid Pro Quo” between Khader and attorney Jeff Buss, in which Khader received free rent at Buss’s law office on Yonkers Avenue.

Buss was appointed a counsel to the then Council President Khader at a salary of $70,000 per year.

Following the allegations, six members of the Yonkers City Council requested that Inspector General Liam McLaughlin conduct an investigation.

McLaughlin, also a former council president, hired an outside counsel and investigator to conduct the inquiry. In 2021, Khader called the matter a witch hunt and lost the Democratic primary to Collins-Bellamy.

In July of last year, 2024, IG McLaughlin released the independent report which found that Khader was “In violation of the Yonkers’ Code of Ethics, and appearing to be in violation of Article 200 of the New York State Penal Law. Khader received rent-free office space from his City-paid counsel’s law firm, Smith, Buss & Jacobs LLP (“SBJ”). It is undisputed that Khader received rent-free office space and related office services from SBJ from or about March 2017 until or about December 2018.

The reports investigators identified the value of the rent that Khader did not pay for 22 months to be between $11,000 - $17,600. Additionally, Khader was able to utilize the support staff from the law offices of Smith, Buss & Jacobs at no cost.

“Khader used SBJ paralegals to support his legal practice, including for the filing of court documents, at times relevant to this Investigation. . . . it is clear that Khader used the SBJ office space and had the benefit of SBJ office services, including paralegals and notaries, during a time when he claimed not to be practicing law and paid no rent to SBJ. Such services are of value to an attorney, but Khader never paid for such services. The Investigators find that such valuable services were part of the quid pro quo.”

The report details numerous examples where Khader was practicing law after telling the IG and investigators that he was not. In one instance, Khader, serving as a court-appointed receiver, submits his bill for services, stating that he “exhausted countless hours” on the case and “performed extensive” work.

At the same time, Khader swore in his deposition that he had stopped or slowed his law practice. Khader’s bill for those services was $37,634.05 and signed the court report using SBJ’s address of 733 Yonkers Avenue, Suite 200.

Khader’s sworn statements in this Investigation and his sworn statements to the Court in the Matter of Joseph Carriere’s Report are clearly inconsistent. Khader’s sworn statements in this Investigation that he stopped or slowed his law practice and that he did not use SBJ’s office as such are demonstrably false and disproven by Khader’s court filings,” states the report.

In the fall of 2021, Westchester District Attorney Mimi Rocah reviewed the independent IG’s report. However, after deciding not to run for reelection, her office did not conclude or opine on the matter of Mike Khader. Apparently, there was not enough time, given that a new District Attorney, Susan Cacace, came into office in January 2025, to conclude the inquiry, and no comment was ever made by DA Rocah’s office on the matter.

We have confirmed that Cacace’s office has the IG’s report and has now sent the matter back to McLaughlin. We don’t know the reasons why.

In recent video interviews and candidate forums, Khader has been vocal in his defense, stating that the allegations are false and without merit. In one interview with Ru Ros on Yonkers Voice, Khader called McLaughlin, a Liar, and claimed, “I provided documents to Liam’s office, I provided it to the investigator, and I provided it to LoHud.”

Khader did not indicate what documents he provided to anyone. Still, we have confirmed that the documents that would exonerate him, including proof that he paid rent to Buss for the period in question, such as rent checks, were not provided.

We reviewed the investigator’s comments and verified their conclusion in the report that “We, the Investigators, conclude that Khader (and Buss/SBJ) failed to provide any credible evidence as to why SBJ provided him with rent-free office space and office services and that such valuable office space (valued at approximately $11,000 – $17,600) and office services (valued at approximately $11,600) were provided as part of a quid pro quo arrangement between Khader and Buss/SBJ whereby Buss received multiple contracts totaling approximately $240,000.”

“Khader does not dispute that he never paid rent to SBJ for suites 200 or 303 for the period March 2017 through or about December 2018. Khader, instead, alternatively and inconsistently argues that it was because he did not practice law, because he only used the office for storage, and because of the state and condition of the office.

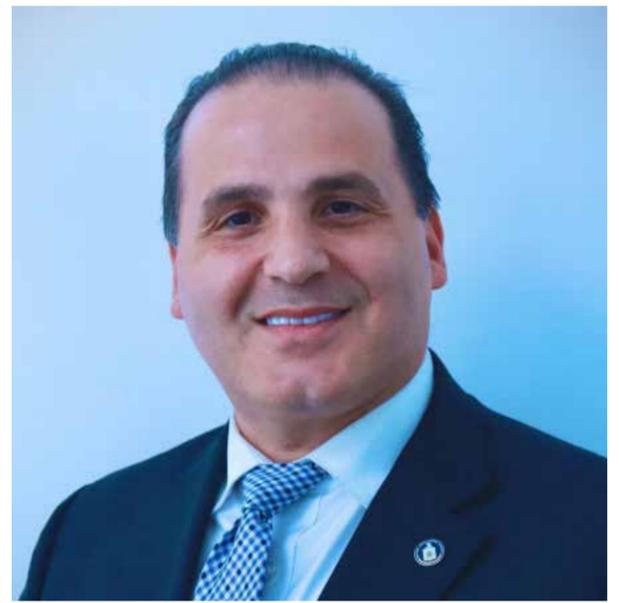

“Khader alternatively claims that he did not pay rent because he was not practicing law at the time. The undisputed facts are that Khader was engaged in the practice of law from March 2017 to December 2018.

The crux of the allegations made against Khader four years ago, which were confirmed in the report, remains the same. What rent was Khader paying to Smith, Buss & Jacobs, and did those payments change when Buss was hired at a salary of $70,000 per year to serve as Khader’s counsel to the Council President, a taxpayer-paid position?

We still do not have an answer to this question,” end of story printed June 13.

What “New Information” has DA Cacace’s office received in the matter of Mike Khader? We do not know.

And synonyms for retain include to keep, hold onto, and maintain.

conduct is especially alarming.

“As U.S. Supreme Court Chief Justice John Roberts observed in his 2024 report on the federal judiciary, ‘violence, intimidation, and defiance directed at judges because of their work undermine our Republic, and are wholly unacceptable.’

“We must never allow this type of conduct to become normalized. The sanctity of our legal process demands nothing less.”

Leo, a litigant before Justice Capeci in criminal and matrimonial proceedings, is accused of sending her electronic messages containing threatening communications. Justice Capeci presides over Westchester County’s Integrated Domestic Violence court.

In one message dated May 27, as alleged in a felony complaint, Leo told her, “I’m going to beat you.” In another message, dated May 30, he is accused of saying, “I wish you die tonight in a car fire.”

And on June 11, Leo stated in yet another message, “I warned you month after month after month. If you take my kids from me for no reason, which you did, it’s not gonna go well,” and “I hope you die,” according to the felony complaint.

Leo is a Yonkers-based attorney with an active registration status. He is scheduled to return to court on June 18.

The investigation was conducted by the Westchester County District Attorney’s Office.

Editor’s Note: Anyone who can find an online photo of Mr. Leo can email us at dmurphy@risingmediagroup.com.

Update: NYS Supreme Court Judge James McCarty granted bail to Leo on June 17 for $250,000, which Leo was expected to post.

Part of the dispute over whether to release Leo was on the accusations that Leo had or did have a number of guns. Last year, Leo had his gun license revoked and was ordered to hand over the 21 guns that were registered in his name.

Instead of giving them to Yonkers police, Leo put 15 in a bag and left them on the steps of St. Mary’s Church on South Broadway.

Leo had his gun license revoked in the fall and was ordered to surrender all 21 guns listed on the license. Instead of giving them directly to Yonkers police, Leo put 15 of them in a bag that he left on the steps of St. Mary’s Church and then informed police.

Later on, the remaining 6 guns were left in an unlocked box outside of the Yonkers Police Department headquarters.

Albany Turns Its Back Again on Survivors

New York's Failure to Fix Legal Loopholes Reveals Pattern of State-Sponsored Exploitation

Survivors of childhood sexual abuse are condemning the New York State Assembly, Governor Kathy Hochul, and Attorney General Letitia James for failing to fix a legal flaw that is now being weaponized to deny justice to hundreds of victims. After the Assembly adjourned without passing a Senate-backed bill to address a key defect in the Child Victims Act (CVA), advocates say the state's posture has shifted from indifference to active exploitation.

"The State of New York is no longer just failing survivors — it's exploiting them," said Gary Greenberg, a survivor and founder of the Fighting for Children PAC. "From the courts to the Attorney General to the Governor's office, survivors are being used for headlines, then discarded when it matters most."

In March, the state's highest court ruled that a CVA lawsuit could be dismissed because the survivor, abused as a child at the Empire State Plaza between 1986 and 1990, could not provide exact dates for the abuse. The court cited the pleading standards in the Court of Claims Act — a statute that the Legislature failed to update despite years of warning signs.

That ruling opened the door for the Attorney General's office to seek mass dismissals of CVA and ASA cases involving state-run facilities, prisons, group homes, and schools. The office has already filed dozens of motions arguing that survivors must recall exact times, dates, and locations — regardless of how long ago the abuse occurred or how young the victim was.

"This is not about justice — it's about legal technicalities being used to crush people who've already suffered more than enough," said Steve Jimenez, a survivor and board member of the Coalition for Justice and Compassionate Compensation (CJCC). "The state is protecting its finances, its institutions, and its insurers — not its people. Albany had every opportunity to fix this, and instead it betrayed survivors again. That's not failure — that's a choice."

In 2019, Insurance Circular Letter No. 11 directed insurers to cooperate fully with CVA cases. Yet five years later, DFS has done nothing to penalize insurance companies for dragging out claims, demanding unnecessary documentation, or refusing to pay survivors. Meanwhile, Governor Hochul — who has full authority over DFS and could have demanded action — has remained silent.

"This is systemic," said David Catalfamo, Executive Director of the CJCC. "The Attorney General fights survivors in court. DFS lets insurers stall them out. And the Governor ignores our pleas. That's not bureaucracy — that's exploitation."

Survivors point to the following pattern of state-enabled obstruction:

The Legislature, despite knowing for years of its infirmity, failed to amend the pleading standards the Court of Claims Act putting at risk hundreds of CVA claims and even more ASA claims

The Attorney General's Office has aggressively pursued dismissals based on hyper-technical pleading rules — even when survivors list multi-year time frames and identify abuse in state-run facilities.

DFS has refused to enforce its own 2019 directive requiring insurers to cooperate with CVA claims in good faith.

Governor Hochul has refused to intervene, speak out, or lead — even as her own administration's legal team and agencies undermine the very laws she claimed to support.

"If the Governor doesn't act now, she'll be remembered for turning her back on survivors of child sex abuse - that's not a legacy any governor wants," Catalfamo said. "Survivors are watching — and are not going away."

In 1949, the Congress, by joint resolution designated June 14 of each year as "Flag Day" and requested that the President issue an annual proclamation calling for its observance and for the display of the flag of the United States on all Federal Government buildings, and called upon all citizens of the United States to display the flag during that week.

The North Salem Republicans celebrated Flag Day with an event attended by Congressman Mike Lawler, County Executive candidate Christine Sculti and Braille Diaz, candidate for County Legislator in the 2nd district.

Diaz posted the following on Facebook which drew our interest. Statement on the "No Kings" Protest and the Contrast with Patriotic Flag Day Celebrations

This past week, while I had the honor of attending patriotic Flag Day ceremonies across our district — including in Mt. Kisco, Bedford Hills, and North Salem — the Democrat Party once again showed its true colors. While residents, veterans, and community leaders came together to celebrate the symbol of our nation's unity, sacrifice, and freedom, Democrats were busy dressing up as clowns and staging yet another divisive protest under the banner of "No Kings."

Let me be clear: this was not a demonstration of principle, but a performance of disunity, disrespect, and chaos. I witnessed firsthand the shameful actions of Democrat activists attempting to disrupt the solemn Flag Day ceremony at the Mt. Kisco American Legion by holding upside down American flags — a disgraceful act that dishonors those who have served and sacrificed for our flag.

While Republicans and Conservatives gathered with our communities to uplift and honor our shared values, Democrats chose mockery and division. The contrast could not be more stark. But this behavior should come as no surprise. Division has been a consistent strategy of the Democrat Party throughout American history. It was the Democrat Party that defended slavery and led this nation into civil war. It was the Democrat Party that enforced segregationist policies and fought against civil rights at every turn. And today, it is the Democrat Party that continues to pit Americans against each other — urban against rural, race against race, class against class — all in the name of political power.

The Republican and Conservative Party's stands for unity, strength, and the enduring promise of the American flag. We believe in one nation under God — not a nation torn apart by theatrics and political stunts. As I stood shoulder to shoulder with proud Americans this Flag Day, I was reminded of the strength and resolve of our communities. The American people are waking up to the games and the damage caused by today's radical Democrats. We will continue to stand tall, honor our history, and fight for a future grounded in faith, family, and freedom.—Braille Diaz Republican/Conservative Nominee for Westchester County Legislator District 2 and proud American Patriot

Two non-partisan Flag Day wishes came from the Westchester County PBA and Westchester County Clerk Tim Itoni.

"Today, on Flag Day, the Westchester County Police PBA proudly salutes the Stars and Stripes, a symbol of freedom, resilience, and unity. Adopted on June 14, 1777, by the Second Continental Congress, the American flag has flown high through battles, triumphs, and challenges, representing the enduring spirit of our nation. Its 13 stripes honor our original colonies, and its 50 stars stand for the unity of our states, reminding us of the sacrifices made for liberty.

"This Flag Day is extra special as it marks the 250th birthday of the U.S. Army, founded on June 14, 1775. The greatest fighting force the world has ever known, the U.S. Army has defended our nation's values with unmatched courage and strength, from the Revolutionary War to modern conflicts. We owe our freedom to the soldiers who have served and continue to protect our way of life. As we raise Old Glory today, let's honor the flag's legacy and the U.S. Army's historic milestone. To our veterans, active-duty soldiers, and fellow officers who uphold these values daily—thank you," posted the Westchester PBA.

Itoni wrote, "Happy Flag Day from the Westchester County Clerk's Office! Today, we honor the symbol of our nation's unity, resilience, and freedom. Let's proudly raise the flag high and celebrate the values it represents." We close on these two unifying thoughts.

The Yonkers Police Benevolent Association has endorsed City Council President Lakisha Collins-Bellamy in the upcoming Democratic Primary. PBA President Frank McDonald, in a recent message to the more than 400 members of the Yonkers PBA, noted that former City Council President Mike Khader who is running to get his old job back, "has adopted a campaign strategy that includes attacking the Yonkers PD."

Collins-Bellamy defeated Khader four years ago amid the revelation that Khader gave a no-bid City contract to his landlord and in return paid no office rent to that landlord. Female staff members also publicly accused Khader of a hostile work environment. The quid pro quo contract is currently under investigation by the Westchester County District Attorney.

"I'm honored that the Yonkers PBA has endorsed me in the Democratic Primary, and I will repay that endorsement with hard work, support for fighting crime, and most of all respect for the men and women of the Yonkers Police Department who risk their safety every day for the rest of us," said Collins-Bellamy.

In his statement to members, PBA President McDonald also said that during his prior term in office Khader showed little to no support for the Yonkers Police Department.

McDonald's statement went on to say, "Rather than presenting a clear platform or discussing his record from his previous term as Council President, he has resorted to slinging mud at his opponent. He has offered no vision, no policy plans, and no explanation as to why he believes he deserves your vote."

Yonkers is one of the safest cities of its size in the nation, noted Collins-Bellamy, adding, "A major reason for that is the hard work and dedication of our police officers. We can only keep Yonkers safe by working together with the men and women of the Department. They are from this city, and they are for this city. Anyone who fails to understand that, such as Mike Khader, is on a very wrong and dangerous track."

By Dan Murphy

"If 102-year-old Kurt Goldschmidt, a survivor of the Holocaust, says "no kings" you'd best get up and stand up for your rights before it's too late. Mr. Goldschmidt knows all too well what he's seeing in Trump's America." Tweeted Tom Watson.

"I'm here today because this is something I can do against Trump. I lived during the Nazi time in Germany and they put me in a concentration camp," Goldschmidt joined thousands of participants at No Kings Rallies in White Plains, Mt. Kisco, Larchmont, Yonkers, Croton and Mamaroneck. There were few if any confrontations with Trumpers who crashed the events.

Some of the comments from those who attended include:

"I'm proud to report that USA Today has estimated that over 1000 people attended the NO Kings rally in Mt. Kisco, NY. Westchester County has a sizable MAGA population so I am gratified that my new home is courageous in expressing their desire to "keep our republic".

Protest is a vital expression of boundary— don't stop. Don't forget.

I'm sharing this experience b/c of my anger & deep disappointment in the way media is covering (or not covering) the protests & to bring more voice to the collective.

The only point of violence during the entire protest was a trump supporter screaming at protesters in a very unhinged way. We did not engage. Law enforcement who were there to monitor the event helped to de-escalate the man to reduce harm & to protect our right to protest.

Yonkers: Two protests will occur in the city of Yonkers. One at Hudson Fulton Memorial Park, 1025 - 1043 Warburton Avenue from noon to 2 p.m. Another will be held at Yonkers Pride from 2 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. at Main Street and Buena Vista Avenue.

This is our opportunity to stand up for democracy - For the rule of law, and to say loudly no kings with our signs.

I think many of the business owners experienced brisk business that day. There has always been talk about filling the streets with walking shoppers, and having a "vibrant downtown." We had that for sure on Saturday.

In the future, maybe some of the protestors might show up for Septemberfest, and Arts Council concerts.

But the Village government and taxpayers did not sign up as a location for protests every single week. The cost of the overtime for Westchester County Police is unknown. The Village has budgetary challenges.

I was there, and I know the event was incredibly well done, and that there was zero violence, with zero destruction of property.

I doubt there was more littering than a typical Village parade or food truck event; much less Septemberfest. I did not see any littering at all.

By some estimates, the thousands of No Kings rallies across the country last weekend may have amounted to one of the largest mass protests in American history. According to data analyst G. Elliott Morris, between four and six million Americans took part in the protests against Trump and his increasingly authoritarian regime — or somewhere between one and two percent of the entire U.S. population.

Some explanations of what the No Kings Day rallies were about include:

While Trump wastes millions of dollars on a birthday parade in DC, we're showing up everywhere else to say NO KINGS.

The No Kings protest is a demonstration being organized for June 14, 2025, on the day of the US Army 250th Anniversary Parade and the 79th birthday of US President Donald Trump, in protest of Trump's policies and actions during his second presidency. No Kings protest.

The biggest issue of protest for the No Kings Protests were to oppose any cuts to Medicaid.

Protestors focused on abortion rights, immigration rights, and the Gaza war.

No Kings is a nationwide day of defiance. From city blocks to small towns, from courthouse steps to community parks, we're taking action to reject authoritarianism—and show the world what democracy really looks like.

We're not gathering to feed his ego. We're building a movement that leaves him behind.

The flag doesn't belong to President Trump. It belongs to us. We're not watching history happen. We're making it.

On June 14th, we're showing up everywhere he isn't—to say no thrones, no crowns, no kings.

One booth would be in the clubhouse and two in the grandstand. Track announcements encouraged winners to take their winnings in War Bonds and Stamps!

June 26, 1943: The USO Junior Hostess Association asked the Common Council to immediately hire policewomen to deal with teenage girls loitering on Yonkers streets at night to pick up servicemen in uniform! The hostesses also asked curfews for minors be rigidly enforced.

Friday, June 27th

June 27, 1841: The Croton Aqueduct began supplying water by gravity to reservoirs in Manhattan, supplanting the polluted NYC water supply; it remained in service until 1955.

June 27, 1891: The cornerstone for the Soldiers and Sailors monument was laid with a copper box made by Thomas McVicar.

June 27, 1944: Yonkers Marine and Quartermaster Sergeant Hubert Lloyd of Caryl Avenue received cigarettes supplied by the "Yonkers Cigaret Fund" while stationed in the South Pacific! He promptly wrote a letter to his Caryl Avenue neighbor, Chairman of the Fund and City Clerk Francis Heafy. He stated, "It might interest you to know that the fine record shown by labor and industry there (Yonkers), a record which tops the entire Country, is greatly appreciated out here... it is, indeed, heartening to know your hometown is in there, pitching."

Saturday, June 28th

June 28, 1927: The Yonkers All Stars, a newly formed semi-pro club under the management of Walter Donohue, played their premier game at Pelton Oval against the Brooklyn Royal Giants. Team members were Tex Greening, Frank Debroske, Boss Landy, Bill Ungvasky, Lou Becker, Lefty Brooks and Cy Barker. Pitcher Harry Beamish and catcher Pete Ormond completed the lineup. Umpire was Bill Grieve.

June 28, 1937: John Dickson, Sr., who pioneered wholesale distribution of newspapers in the United States, retired at the age of seventy-three. Dickson began with eight boys and went from street sales to house-to-house delivery in 1898, delivering the Yonkers Daily News... the first evening paper delivered in Yonkers. When the paper discontinued, he handled delivery of both The Yonkers Statesman and The Yonkers Herald until the two papers merged. After his death, The Herald Statesman management switched the delivery contract to George Goldstein, Buena Vista Avenue.

Sunday, June 29th

June 29, 1923: After witnessing the "tapping of the old Croton Aqueduct," Water Bureau Superintendent Harry Foley announced this removed all danger of a Yonkers "water famine," as the tapping sent 2,000,000 gallons into the Saw Mill River daily.

June 29, 1943: With the closing of the Getty Square Branch of the Putnam Division of the NY Central Railroad, the Office of Defense Transportation gave Club Transportation Company permission to operate an extra bus during morning and evening rush hours to bring the "Old Put" passengers to the Central's Ludlow Station.

Coming to Grips with Medicaid

Editor's Note:

Because of our political divide, the issue of providing Medicaid benefits to those who need it and are entitled to them is not being discussed enough.

We found this bit of info about how tedious the process is, from MaryAnn McCarra from Peekskill, a moderator on Westchester County Newswire on Facebook.

Removing the ineligible from Medicaid rolls involves states redetermining eligibility and ending coverage for those no longer meeting the requirements.

This process, known as "unwinding," was delayed during the pandemic but has now begun, potentially impacting millions of people. States are conducting these redeterminations to ensure resources are directed towards those who truly need Medicaid.

Here's a more detailed breakdown:

Redeterminations:

States are required to re-evaluate the eligibility of Medicaid recipients to ensure they still qualify for benefits.

Unwinding:

This is the process of ending Medicaid continuous enrollment provisions, which were in place during the pandemic, and redetermining eligibility.

Eligibility Requirements:

States must verify that recipients meet the income, residency, and other criteria for Medicaid coverage.

Impact:

The redetermination process has led to many people losing Medicaid coverage. Some states have begun removing ineligible recipients as early as April 2023, according to a PBS article.

Reasons for Disenrollment:

Individuals may lose coverage due to changes in income, no longer meeting residency requirements, or not responding to eligibility redetermination requests, according to a report from Guidehouse.

Outreach and Support:

States are working to ensure people are aware of the redetermination process and have access to resources to help them apply for other forms of coverage, according to the Kaiser Family Foundation." End.

My next question would be -What if the state that you live in does not want to clean up their Medicaid roles?

Manhattanville University Announces Record-Breaking Enrollment for Fall 2025

Manhattanville University is proud to announce a significant surge in enrollment for Fall 2025, marking the institution's largest incoming first-year class since 2017. With a 32% year-over-year increase in deposits and a 65% rise in applications, the university is experiencing its most robust undergraduate growth in four consecutive years.

"We are thrilled to see a significant increase in new student applications at Manhattanville University with deposits up 32% over fall of 2024," said President Frank D. Sánchez, Ph.D. "We are anticipating the largest class of first-year students since 2017. This surge is a testament to our commitment to academic excellence and innovation. We look forward to welcoming this new cohort of talented and motivated students to our vibrant campus community."

Professional education and the sciences as well as accelerated options are a driver of new enrollments. The university attributes this growth to the launch of innovative academic programs, including new majors in Cybersecurity, Neuroscience, Data Science, Interdisciplinary Studies, and a Bachelor of Science in Education, as well as accelerated degree options that provide students with flexible and career-focused pathways.

Key highlights of the incoming class include:

Higher average high school GPA compared to last year: Up 32% year over year – those with 3.5 GPA and higher

36% increase in residential students

Applications from 49 states, 4 U.S. territories, and 35 countries

Deposits from 24 states, 2 territories, and 13 countries

42% increase in deposits for the School of Nursing and Health Sciences; 185% increase in deposits for Radiologic Technology

100% increase in deposits for School of Education for the undergraduate education program

"I'm excited to say that Manhattanville is continuing to grow our enrollment and educate students that come from our local schools and schools as far as California and beyond," said Christina Labella, Director of Undergraduate Admissions. "This year's incoming first-year class is not only our largest in nearly a decade, but it is one of our most academically prepared classes with a thirty-two percent increase in deposits of students with a 3.5 GPA or higher. We are seeing enormous interest and growth in living on campus with applications from nearly all 50 states across the U.S."

"Manhattanville is staying ahead of the curve by facilitating experiential learning opportunities for all undergraduate students and offering accelerated advanced degree opportunities for all academic programs," said Christine Dehne, M.F.A., Provost and Executive Vice President. "The hands-on learning experiences we provide ensure that our students are not only well-prepared academically but also ready to make meaningful contributions in the real world."
