City Council Approved Budget by 6-1 Vote

Following weeks of budget hearings, the City of Yonkers 2025-2026 Budget was adopted with a 6-1 vote by the Yonkers City Council. The Adopted Budget invests in quality of life services, public safety, contains no cuts to municipal services or active workforce, and maintains historic funding to Yonkers Public Schools.

The 2026 Adopted Budget increases funding to the Yonkers Public Schools, bringing the total transfer to education to $298.3 million. The Adopted Budget stays within the state-mandated tax cap, with an adopted tax increase of 2.85%.

Mayor Spano stated, "This budget is sound and responsible. Given the current global economic climate, I would like to thank the cooperative efforts of our City Council as we make informed investments in the quality services we provide to our residents. Making the vital investments in education will allow us to keep moving Yonkers forward in the right direction."

For FY26, the Adopted Budget recommit to education in Yonkers Public Schools, as it includes additional funding provided by a change in the Regional Cost Index (RCI) passed by the New York State Legislature, which affects funding formula calculations for FY26 and beyond.

"Special thanks to our State delegation for recognizing the needs of our students and helping Yonkers Public Schools avoid potential cuts in jobs and services, and continue the progress we've made in the District," commented Mayor Spano.

Council President Collins-Bellamy Proposes Unified Plan To Battle Trump Attacks on Yonkers

"Almost every Yonkers resident is going to be negatively affected, or know someone who is negatively affected by these cuts. Even some of those who voted for Trump are concerned."

City Council President Lakisha Collins-Bellamy is proposing a coordinated effort by governmental, educational, and not-for-profit agencies throughout Yonkers to respond to the Trump Administration's efforts to gut essential services that are critical to the City.

"We may not be able to stop what the Trump Administration is doing, but we can coordinate our response and use what resources we have to limit the damage as much as possible," said Collins-Bellamy, adding, "City Government, the schools, the social service agencies, and others need establish a coordinated mechanism to push back against cuts and to best manage the resources that are still left to us."

Collins-Bellamy notes that Trump's proposed budget would cut off Section 8 rental assistance after two years, cuts the school meal programs that feed all Yonkers students, and would eliminate more than $5 million in Community Development Block Grant funds that many dozens of Yonkers agencies rely on to provide food, education, housing assistance, and crime reduction. Trump is also trying to eliminate the HOME program that has provided more than $1 million a year to assist the construction of affordable housing in Yonkers. Senior Citizen nutrition programs and funding for food banks have already been cut, despite being authorized by Congress.

"Almost every Yonkers resident is going to be negatively affected, or know someone who is negatively affected, by these cuts," said Collins-Bellamy. "Even some of those who voted for Trump are concerned that the effects go

Yonkers Fire Department Blesses Six New Trucks

Yonkers Mayor Mike Spano joined Yonkers Fire Commissioner William Fitzpatrick and members of the Yonkers Fire Department to bless six new pumper trucks now available for full operation. The arrival of the new pumper trucks is the single largest delivery since 2005.

"Our primary mission and priority is the safety of our firefighters," said Mayor Spano. "We want to ensure we have the right equipment for firefighters who go out there and put their lives on the line for us. This is an investment in life-saving."

Under Mayor Spano's Administration, the City of Yonkers has secured 29 new ladder trucks, pumpers, and battalions.

Yonkers Fire Commissioner William Fitzpatrick said, "These six new pumpers are a big step in upgrading our fleet - there is a national shortage of fire apparatus and extended delivery times - our team lead by Chief Mahoskey was able to put this altogether in six months which is unparalleled in the fire service - great job by all involved."

The six new pumper trucks were manufactured by US Fire Apparatus in Louisiana. These units will be responsible for fire suppression and first response to any medical emergencies. Before full-service operation, the trucks were extensively tested on all firefighting components, including radio programming and road testing around Yonkers' hilly terrain.

Senator Mayer Honors Judy Troilo As 2025 New York State Senate Woman of Distinction

Senator Shelley Mayer is pleased to announce Judy Troilo (she/her) as her nominee for the 2025 Woman of Distinction award. Troilo is recognized for her leadership in Westchester County and dedication and service to the LGBTQ+ community throughout Senate District 37 and Westchester County. Troilo was honored as a Woman of Distinction alongside 62 other women from across New York State during a ceremony in Albany.

Troilo served as the Chief Executive Officer of the LOFT, the largest LGBTQ+ based community center and service provider for Westchester County, for over eleven years. Under her leadership, the LOFT significantly expanded free programs and services, organized pride events that attracted thousands of attendees, and led the LOFT to be recognized at the local, state, and federal levels for its achievements in community building, public health, the arts, and activism.

The Senate Women of Distinction program was created in 1998 to honor women across New York State for their achievements and accomplishments. The honorees are women who have made enriching contributions to both their local communities and the state.

Senator Shelley B. Mayer said, "I am honored to name Judy as a NYS Senate Woman of Distinction. During the eleven years she led The LOFT – and in her activism prior – Judy has led fiercely for the good of the community and to improve the lives of so many. I am proud to have people like Judy in our community and am honored that she is my nominee for the 2025 New York State Senate's Woman of Distinction. Thank you Judy, for all you have done and continue to do for our community."

Judy Troilo said, "It's an incredible honor to receive the Woman of Distinction award for my work with the LGBTQ+ community, especially from Senator Shelley Mayer, whose leadership and dedication inspire me every day."

Troilo began her time at The LOFT as Chief Executive Officer in November 2014. During her tenure, she increased the organization's operating budget by over 400%, allowing the LOFT to increase staff and provide over 50 free programs, services, and events – serving thousands of LGBTQ+ community members in Westchester County each year.

Under her leadership, The LOFT hosted Westchester Pride, a celebration that welcomes over 7,000 visitors annually, as well as the Hudson Valley TransForum, the largest annual conference for Transgender, Gender Nonconforming, and Non-Binary Communities in the Lower Hudson Valley.

Recently, Troilo spearheaded – and still leads – the development of The LOFT's new facility, which will include 40 units of affordable housing, senior, LGBTQ+ affirming housing, directly above the new center complete with an LGBTQ+ affirming medical center.

Additionally, Troilo served on Westchester County District Attorney's Hate Crimes Task Force, the advisory committee for Equality New York, The Women's Advisory Board of Westchester County, and is a Board Member for Non-Profit Westchester.

Troilo is a graduate of the School of Visual Arts (BFA) in New York City. She is also an artist, filmmaker, musician, and activist.

WMCHHealth, Westchester County, and Stew Leonard III Water Safety Foundation Unite to Combat Childhood Drownings

At a waterfront press conference held May 20 at Glen Island Park, leaders from the Westchester Medical Center Health Network (WMCHHealth), Westchester County, and the Stew Leonard III Water Safety Foundation joined forces to issue an urgent call to action: preventable drownings are on the rise — and communities must act now to stop them.

The event brought together David Lubarsky, MD, MBA, President and CEO of WMCHHealth; Westchester County Executive Ken Jenkins; and Kim and Stew Leonard, Jr. from the Foundation and Stewie the Duck Swim School. Together, they spotlighted a sharp increase in pediatric drownings across the region, underscoring the importance of water safety education, early swim instruction, and vigilant supervision during the summer season.

In 2024, the Network's advanced care pediatric center and Level I pediatric trauma center, Maria Fareri Children's Hospital, treated 23 pediatric drowning cases, more than triple the historical average of 7–8 per year — a trend described by speakers as "deeply alarming."

"We're here today because something deeply alarming is happening in our communities," said Dr. Lubarsky. "Last year, we saw 23 pediatric drowning emergencies across our trauma and emergency departments. That's not a statistic — that's 23 families forever changed. And that's why we're here: to stop this trend before it takes another life."

Westchester County Executive Ken Jenkins said: "As we look forward to a fun and festive Memorial Day Weekend, we know that many of you will be headed to one of our beautiful County beaches or gathering with family and friends around a pool at home. We want to remind everyone – parents, grandparents and caretakers – that the most important thing to remember this summer is the safety of your children. We all know too well that accidental drownings can happen within seconds, and sometimes those seconds can mean the difference between life and death. Westchester County is proud to stand with WMCHHealth and the Stew Leonard III Water Safety Foundation for this important initiative, to reduce the number of pediatric drowning incidents and prevent tragedies from occurring this summer."

At the event, Kim and Stew Leonard, Jr., announced a $400,000 funding initiative in partnership with Step into Swim to offer free or low-cost swim lessons for underserved children at greater risk of drowning. These lessons will be provided through certified programs that meet American Red Cross safety standards. Swim lesson providers seeking funding should apply at StepIntoSwim.org.

"Until swimming lessons are part of every child's school curriculum, it's up to caregivers to make water safety a priority," said Kim and Stew Leonard Jr., co-founders of the Foundation. "It starts with supervision, education, and teaching children to swim."

Glen Island Park provided a fitting backdrop for the announcement — a place that embodies both the joys of summer and the need for heightened vigilance near water.

Today's Students Tomorrow's Teachers Celebrates 30 Years of Empowering Future Educators

Evelise Mercado & Natalie Joseph, 2nd & 3rd left, were TSTT teachers to be honored as TSTT Perkins Scholars for reaching their 10-year milestone as teachers. other prominent TSTT educators (l-r) Dr. LaTanya Lawrence; Dr. Melissa White; TSTT founder/President/CEO Dr. Bettye Perkins and Dr. Merica Neville.

Distinguished guests including prominent educators, business and community leaders, school district and college partners, local, county, state and federal officials and supporters recently gathered for Today's Students Tomorrow's Teachers (TSTT) 30th Anniversary Celebrating the Legacy Recognition and Awards Ceremony Brunch.

TSTT celebrated its 30-year legacy and the significant impact it has made on public education and the promise it holds in continuing to strengthen the ranks of public-school teachers, arguably the key to the nation's workforce and competitiveness on the world stage.

The acclaimed nonprofit has successfully recruited, mentored and trained culturally diverse and economically challenged high school students to pursue teaching professions and placed them as effective and committed teachers. In so doing, the teachers have strengthened schools and communities and are serving as role models for future teachers.

Among the notable guests who participated in the celebration, held at the Sleepy Hollow Hotel and Conference Center in Tarrytown, were New York State Majority Leader Andrea Stewart-Cousins; New York State Senator Shelley B. Mayer, Chair of the state Committee on Education; Westchester County Executive Kenneth W. Jenkins and Congressman James E. Clyburn of South Carolina, who has served as TSTT's Honorary Chair for the past 11 years. Award-winning News 12 journalist Lisa LaRocca served as Mistress of Ceremonies.

TSTT's innovative and viable mentoring mode-- which has been lauded by the U.S. Department and Education, American Federation of Teachers and United Federation of Teachers, among others-- has helped close the critical teacher diversity gap in the nation's public schools. It is a mission that was begun by Dr. Bettye Perkins in 1995 when she founded TSTT for which she has served as President and CEO.

The nation's public education is facing an unprecedented crisis. From teacher shortages and a decline in student enrollment in colleges and universities, especially in schools of education, to reduced funding and a decrease in student academic achievement, the news has not been encouraging.

"TSTT's impressive legacy of achievement and highly adaptable mentoring model in school districts, large and small, is a beacon of hope for the future of public education during this very challenging and uncertain period," Dr. Perkins said, adding "At a time when the student achievement gap has widened for a variety of reasons including the pandemic, TSTT is very proud that our students have consistently outperformed their peers."

Dr. Perkins noted that the TSTT high school graduation rate is 95%; college admission rate is 96% and the college graduation rate is 70%. In addition, TSTT has a five-year teacher retention rate of 90%, compared to 50% nationally.

TSTT's legacy began with a cohort of 7 students, a pipeline that has recruited, mentored and trained nearly 1,700 middle, high school and college students and over 400 teachers and leaders who are helping to shape the lives of students in classrooms across the country.

Underscoring the enduring power of TSTT's mentoring model, the next generation of aspiring teachers—a group of mentored 60 college-ground high school

2025 ALICE REPORT: As Costs Increase, the Number of People Struggling Hits Record

New research zeroes in on households living paycheck to paycheck, yet often with income that's too high for assistance

In 2023, the number of households that are struggling to make ends meet reached a record number, according to new data from United Way of Westchester and Putnam and its research partner United For ALICE. The State of ALICE in Westchester reveals that traditional measures of poverty have severely undercounted the number of households countywide that are living in financial hardship.

While 10% of all households in the county lived in poverty in 2023, the new research shows that 28% –nearly three times as many – were ALICE® (Asset Limited, Income Constrained, Employed). Combined, 38% of Westchester’s households, totaling 144,612, fell below the ALICE Threshold of Financial Survival in 2023, up from 2% or 10,581 households in 2022. It is the largest number of households falling below the ALICE Threshold since the study began in 2010.

ALICE households bring in less than the basic costs of housing, childcare, food, transportation, health care and technology, plus taxes. Yet because their income is above the Federal Poverty Level, they often don’t qualify for assistance.

“Entire families and essential workers can’t make ends meet and are being overlooked for support. When we underestimate how many households are struggling, we underestimate what it truly takes to build thriving communities,” said Tom Gabriel, President and CEO of the United Way of Westchester and Putnam. “This means too many are left without the resources they need to stay healthy, achieve financial stability and reach their fullest potential. That’s a loss not just for ALICE families, but for all of us. We cannot continue to ignore this problem when Westchester residents are struggling in an economy that simply isn’t working for them.”

The crux of the struggle for ALICE families is the gap between wages and expenses. In 2023, a family of four with children in childcare in Westchester needed $131,316 just to cover the essentials – more than four times the Federal Poverty Level of $30,000. Yet even with both parents working full time in two of the state’s most common jobs – a personal care aide and a stock worker/order filler – this family’s combined income still fell short of the cost of basics by $57,436.

Additionally, some groups face financial hardship at disproportionate rates, with 75% of the youngest and 47% of the oldest households in Westchester falling below the ALICE Threshold, compared with 38% of households headed by someone age 25-44. Similarly, Black and Hispanic households are 53% and 52% likely to be below the ALICE Threshold as compared to 30% of white households.

The statistics from Westchester County align with the state findings. The State of ALICE in New York State also reveals that in 2023:

New York State ranked 3rd in financial hardship among all 50 states plus the District of Columbia, with one of the nation’s highest percentages of households struggling to make ends meet. Louisiana and Mississippi were the only two states with a greater rate of financial hardship at 50% and 49% respectively.

Housing continues to be an obstacle for struggling families. Among households below the ALICE Threshold in New York, 70 % of households that rented and 61% of those that owned were rent and housing burdened – meaning they paid 30% or more of their income on rent and housing costs.

“ALICE families are especially vulnerable during natural disasters and times of economic uncertainty and yet often feel unseen or left behind,” said Stephanie Hoopes, Ph.D., National Director at United For ALICE. “By providing a name and a way to quantify these households, we’re equipping communities with the data to build solutions that offer better choices and real pathways to stability.”

A copy of the latest The State of ALICE in Westchester is available on the United Way of Westchester and Putnam website at www.uwwp.org/alice. Advice for LGBTQ+ Teens: Stay True, Stay Strong

By: Dennis Richmond, Jr.

Being a teenager is hard. Being a teen in the LGBTQ+ Community can feel even harder. Whether you’re out, questioning, DL, trade, or navigating the everyday challenges of identity, four LGBTQ+ folk want you to know—you’re not alone. From New York to Canada, these voices are living proof that youth can grow into powerful, passionate, thriving individuals.

“The internet isn’t everything.”

Harlow Sory, 21, is a writer and artist living in Colorado Springs, Colorado. A trans woman with a BA from Sarah Lawrence College, Harlow encourages teens to look beyond online debates and discourse.

“There are so many beautiful connections to be made in real life,” she says. “Don’t worry if someone doesn’t know all the ‘right’ words. That doesn’t make them bad.”

What matters to her is safety, access to healthcare, and a future where trans people can live freely. “Let’s fight for liberation—not just for visibility,” she urges. “You are more than a label. You deserve a life filled with purpose and power.”

“Take your time. Find your tribe.”

Devine Bey, aka The Goddess Eve (also known online as Oso Divine), is 23 and based in the Bronx. Her message is clear and tender: slow down.

“Surround yourself with people who want better for you and for themselves,” she says. “Stay informed, stay aware, and never forget—you are loved. There is a place in this world that was made just for you.”

Devine, a trans woman, wants the youth to know they are sacred, special, and worthy of community.

Balance care with action.”

Annalise Wall, 22, is a bisexual writer currently living in Nova Scotia. Like Harlow, she studied at Sarah Lawrence and is now pursuing a degree in library and archival science.

Her advice? “Balancing your own care with community action is key. That means learning more about yourself and your biases, even when it’s hard.”

She reminds teens that activism doesn’t have to mean burnout. “Don’t fall into the trap of infighting,” she says. “It’s okay to be tired. But stay engaged. Stay angry. Your presence matters—right now, and always.”

“Never stop being who you are.”

Selena Martinez, a truck driver and future nurse from Staten Island, has a message that is unforgettable.

“Whether it’s your parents or strangers—don’t let anyone stop you from being yourself,” she says. “You are important. Never give up.”

To LGBTQ+ youth everywhere: your existence is a revolution. These four voices—bold, brave, and beautifully different—want you to know that your journey is only beginning. And even when it gets hard, you’re never walking it alone.

Happy Pride Month.

Dennis Richmond, Jr. (@NewYorkStakz) is a journalist, historian, and educator from Yonkers, NY. He writes to uplift unheard voices, honor history, and inspire change.

The $8 Million Blow: How Terminations of Federal Arts Grants Will Harm Westchester

Like thousands of organizations across the U.S. that provide access to the arts and opportunities to advance creative free expression, ArtsWestchester recently received termination notices for several federal grants.

Over these last few weeks, the Trump Administration terminated some $2,000,000 in federal grants to the Westchester County arts and cultural community. When we include the match requirements of these grants and outstanding project proposals to these agencies, the total impact of these cuts is in the magnitude of $8 million.

These grant terminations are devastating and disruptive.

The defunded projects include initiatives to document, preserve, and increase access to America's cultural heritage and history, curriculum development and teacher training, and cultural workforce programs. Federal dollars support our cultural institutions, but they also go directly into the hands of independent artists and small businesses.

Westchester's non-profit arts sector contributes $183 million to our local economy annually and supports 2,250 cultural jobs. A cut to the arts is a blow to our local economic landscape.

We are especially concerned that the current federal FY2026 spending proposal calls for the elimination of the NEA, IMLS, and the National Endowment for the Humanities. These agencies represent 13% of all public monies allocated to Westchester arts and cultural organizations.

As news of the funding cuts spreads, many might wonder how they can help keep the arts alive in their communities. At this critical moment, tell your elected officials the arts matter and to save the NEA; buy a ticket to an arts event and take part in the arts; or donate to your favorite arts group to help fill the gap left by federal grant cuts.

Public funding of the arts is essential because the arts are how we express our culture, our hopes and aspirations, and our identity as individuals and as communities. The arts fundamentally help us advance towards the goal of achieving a "more perfect union."

To silence artists is to silence us all.

Three New Yorkers who lost loved ones in nursing homes during COVID, wrote the following letter to President Trump which outlines their complaints against Cuomo.

"Dear Mr. President,

Social Security Delivers the Most Popular Baby Names in New York for 2024

See the list at www.ssa.gov/oact/babynames/

The Social Security Administration today announced the most popular baby names in New York for 2024. Liam and Mia topped the list.

The top five boys' and girls' names for 2024 in New York were:

Boys:	Girls:
1) Liam	1) Mia
2) Noah	2) Emma
3) Lucas	3) Sophia
4) Ethan	4) Olivia
5) Joseph	5) Isabella

The agency announced last week that Olivia and Liam were the most popular baby names in the U.S. How does New York compare to the rest of the country? Check out Social Security's website, www.ssa.gov/oact/babynames/, to see the top national baby names for 2024 and see where your name ranks now and over the past 100 years.

Social Security began compiling the baby names list in 1997, with names dating back to 1880. Each year, the list reveals the effect of pop-culture on naming trends. In addition to each state's top baby names (and names for U.S. territories), Social Security's website has a list of the 1,000 most popular boys' and girls' names for 2024 and the fastest rising girls' and boys' names.

Most parents apply for their child's Social Security number (SSN) at birth, during their hospital stay. Social Security Commissioner Frank Bisignano encourages families to take this vital step in ensuring valuable protection for any benefits their children may be eligible for in the future.

An SSN is needed to claim a child as a dependent for income tax purposes or to open a bank account in the child's name and buy savings bonds. More information on getting a child's Social Security number and card is provided in Social Security Numbers for Children.

Social Security encourages everyone to enjoy the baby names list and, while online, see what else you can do at www.ssa.gov.

Letter to the Editor:

In the wake of the Joe Biden debacle, corrective legislative actions and transparency are required by Congress now to prevent future occurrences.

I write to respond to one of the lead articles in the May 23, 2025 issue of Westchester Rising ("We're Looking Forward Ain't Good Enough") with respect to recent revelations that former President Joe Biden's staff covered up instances about lapses in the former President's mental acuity during last year's Presidential campaign.

Like most Americans, I pray for President Biden's speedy recovery and continued years of service to the nation as a former President.

In my opinion, there is a "rush to judgement" about the former President's ability to simultaneously run an effective campaign and handle the burdens of the Presidency in 2022-2024. Clearly, we will have to wait for the former President to present his side of the story so that historians will have a more balanced and complete picture of what occurred during his Administration.

Until that history is written, Congress needs to focus on taking corrective actions to assure the American people that the possibility of what happened does not occur again. I suggest the following:

- Mental competency tests should be mandated for many executive level-elected positions such as President, Governor, etc. Last year, former South Carolina Governor/Ambassador Nikki Haley (whose candidacy I actively supported) made such a proposal for candidates aged 75 and older;

- The 25th Amendment (TFA) to the U.S. Constitution, which became law in the wake of President John F. Kennedy's assassination, addressed issues of Presidential incapacity due to injury, illness or other reasons. But the Amendment does not address, in the opinion of many scholars, the issue of mental incapacity – given that mental incapacity involves a spectrum of cognitive and psychological conditions. Congress needs to step up and seriously consider a modification to TFA to handle such situations;

- Congress needs to consider a legal requirement that the President's physician be required to annually certify that POTUS is physically and cognitively fit to serve. Such a proposal has the support of Dr. Jonathan Reiner, a noted internist and cardiologist at George Washington University and who served as White House Medical Unit consultant for the last 4 administrations.

This is a priority matter that needs to be addressed, the sooner the better so that there is less of a chance of a repetition not only in the 2028 election cycle, but thereafter. Congress also needs to take its job seriously in this area as well.

students and college students—were recognized.

Deeandre Greaves, who graduated from Kingston High School in 2022 and attended Columbia-Greene Community College for two years, received the Annual TSTT Lois Bronz Scholarship Fund Award. He was the sixth consecutive deserving male student to receive the scholarship that will enable him to continue the journey to become a teacher. Currently, he is a Mathematics Education major at Mercy University and plans to earn a certification in Special Education.

The award was established in 2018 to commemorate Bronz's distinguished career as an educator, math teacher at every level from K-12 to college and in civic activism and politics including becoming the first African-American Woman elected to the Westchester County Board of Legislators.

TSTT also announced the establishment of the new Helen Williams Scholarship to help an outstanding student succeed at college. The late Helen Williams, a former educator for 40 years at Ossining High School, and mother of actress Vanessa Williams, was a long-time supporter of TSTT who helped prepare TSTT college graduates to become teachers.

Veronica Green, who is graduating from Kingston High School, was named the first recipient of the Helen Williams Award. She joined TSTT as a 9th grader and will attend Dutchess Community College where she will pursue Music and Early Childhood Education studies.

In addition, the latest group of TSTT teachers who have reached their 10—year milestone was honored by receiving 2025 Golden Apples from Dr. Perkins. They included Natalie Joseph, a graduate of Ramapo High School and Manhattanville University, is a first-grade teacher at The School at Columbia University and Evelise Mercado, a graduate of Peekskill High School and Pace University, who is a second-grade teacher at Virginia Road Elementary School in Valhalla, NY. Teacher mentors who reached 10 years were also honored and they included Collean Keaveney from Fallsburg Jr/Sr School and Brenda Rivera from Monticello.

Dr. Catherine Flores, a special education teacher at Scarsdale High School, was honored as the recipient of 2025 TSTT Trailblazer Award, conferred on alumni who are Perkins Scholars and hold leadership positions in education and/or have earned doctorate degrees. Among past recipients are Emerly Martinez, Principal, White Plains High School; Dr. Melissa White, Principal, Mt. Vernon; Jeffrey Cole, Director of Special Services, Mahopac; Dr. LeTanya Lawrence, District Supervisor of Specialized Instruction, Bridgeport, CT; Dr. Tomeka Wilcher, Assistant Professor, Hampton University; Dr. Merica Neuville, Principal, Carmel; Dr. Letitia Payne, Assistant Principal, Putnam Valley and Dr. Mariela Henry, Founder and CEO at EASE Services, New Hempstead.

TSTT also saluted its collaborative partnership with 46 school districts, 23 colleges and universities as well as business partners and other supporters who have provided students with much needed financial assistance by way of scholarships.

Another highlight of the program was the presentation of the 2025 Community Impact Awards to the Greater Hudson Valley and the Westchester County Chapters of The Links Incorporated. Dr. Shuana Tucker-Sims, Chief Talent Officer for the Connecticut State Department of Education and National Vice-President of The Links, Incorporated presented the awards.

"The 30-year legacy is a defining moment for TSTT. Thanks to the inspired vision, commitment and generosity of TSTT's extended community, we have emerged as a leader in empowering deserving high school students to pursue the noble profession of teaching who will continue to make a difference in the lives of thousands of children and in the future workforce," said Dr. Perkins, who founded TSTT in 1994 and launched the organization in 1995 as an early teacher preparation program. Nursing Homes Death During COVID in NY, continued from pg 1-

Andrew Cuomo, severely restricted New Yorkers from accessing their services.

With Mr. Cuomo running in New York City's mayoral primary coming up on June 24, 2025, New Yorkers deserve the truth about the tragic deaths of 15,000 loved ones in nursing homes. It is imperative for NYC voters to learn once and for all whether, as Mr. Cuomo dubiously claims, he was following the CDC and CMS guidelines set forth by your administration.

Over the past five years Mr. Cuomo has publicly stated that his deadly March 25, 2020 nursing home directive, compelling nursing homes to accept 9000 COVID-positive patients while prohibiting them from requiring a COVID-19 test, followed federal guidelines.

In reality, most governors took bold actions to shield their vulnerable elderly citizens from contracting COVID in nursing homes. Mr. Cuomo, by contrast, freely admits to having been pressured by the state hospital lobby – by far his largest campaign contributor – to force COVID-positive elderly patients out of hospital beds and back into nursing homes, turning such facilities into vectors for the spread of the dread disease with devastating consequences.

Here are four notable quotes from Mr. Cuomo where he blames the Trump administration's guidance:

At a May 20, 2020 press conference, Governor Cuomo said (1:04:37): "Anyone who wants to ask, why did the state do that with COVID patients in nursing homes? It's because the state followed President Trump's CDC guidance. So they should ask President Trump. I think that will stop the conversation," said Cuomo. He further stated (1:05:19): "Your first point, why did the state do that? Because the state followed President Trump's CDC guidance. Okay. That's that answer."

At a January 29, 2021 press conference, when confronted about the nursing home death report, Cuomo callously stated (47:45): "Who cares [where they died]?" "They died!" He further stated (46:14): "When I say the state Department of Health, as the report said, the state Department of Health followed federal guidance. So if you think there was a mistake, then go talk to the federal government."

On February 17, 2021 Governor Cuomo announced, "I would sue the federal government for malpractice on their CDC and CMS guidance the same way I sued the federal government on SALT [deductions] and sued the federal government on their immigration policy and sued the federal government for their global Trusted Traveler Program. I would sue the CDC and CMS for malpractice and we followed their advice, which was malpractice. That's what I would do if I believed the March 25 memo was wrong."

On June 11, 2024, Governor Cuomo testified to the Congressional Select Subcommittee on the Coronavirus Pandemic: "Investigators found that New York's Department of Health March 25 guidance was consistent with the prior guidelines issued by the federal CMS and CDC on March 4, 9, 13th and 23rd

For the past year, our COVID-orphan families have led a bi-partisan effort to get New York elected officials to write to the CDC/CMS in pursuit of a formal determination as to whether the New York Department of Health's March 25, 2020 directive was consistent with the guidelines set by your administration or not.

We sent a letter to then President Biden requesting his help with CDC/CMS but to no avail. Now our families are looking to your administration to set the record straight.

The following bi-partisan elected officials have recently written letters to the CDC and CMS seeking answers:

- NY Congressional Republican Caucus 2025 Michael Lawler, Nicole Malliotakis, Nick LaLota,
- Claudia Tenney, Nicholas Langworthy, and Andrew Garbarino
- NY State Senator Jessica Ramos: CDC 2025, NYS DOH
- NYC Comptroller Brad Lander: CDC 2025, CDC 2024, NYS DOH, NYC DOH
- NY State Senator Andrew Gounardes
- NYC Republican Council Common Sense Caucus
- NY State Republican Senate Minority Leader Robert Ort
- NY State Assemblyman Ron Kim: CDC, NYS DOH, NYC DOH
- NYC Public Advocate Jumaane Williams

The Congressional Select Subcommittee on the Coronavirus Pandemic released their final reports:

Republican final report and Democratic final report.

The Republican report states on pages 230-234: "FINDING: The March 25 Directive Was Inconsistent with Applicable Federal Guidance Regarding Hospital to Nursing Home Transfers and COVID-19 Related Infection Control."

The Democratic report, on page 35, when comparing the NYS DOH March 25, 2020 directive to the federal guidelines, concluded: "Governor Cuomo was immediately criticized for the Advisory, which also arguably contradicted federal CMS guidance by requiring nursing homes to accept patients with a COVID-19 diagnosis."

See this document that we created to show that the DOH March 25th directive was at odds with CDC/CMS guidelines. Words highlighted in yellow are not found in the CDC or CMS guidelines; you will see that the directive is almost entirely highlighted in yellow.

It is a national tragedy that New York lost 15,000 of our most vulnerable loved ones in nursing homes within the space of mere months. Worse still, many died alone and in agony. We are respectfully requesting your help to obtain for these victims, their families and loved ones, and the elected officials seeking responses to their inquiries, a written determination from the CDC/CMS: "Was former Governor Cuomo's March 25, 2020 directive following CDC/CMS guidelines?"

Thank you in advance for your leadership on this vital issue for public health.

Respectfully, Peter Arbeeny Janice Dean Vivian Zayas/Alexa Rivera"

Yonkers Resident Announced Winner of Brain Injury Association of NY Founder's Award

By Jessica Hofmann

Yonkers resident, Jenn DiBenedetto, who is a certified brain injury specialist, and founder and executive director of A1 Service Coordination (A1SC), has been named the Founder's Award winner by the Brain Injury Association of New York State (BIANYS). Jenn will be presented the award at the organization's annual conference on June 11-13, 2025. The Founder's Award recognizes her outstanding efforts to help establish new services or opportunities for people with brain injuries and their families.

A1 Service Coordination is dedicated to delivering top-quality Service Coordination for individuals and families living in New York City and the Lower Hudson Valley participating in the Nursing Home Transition and Diversion and Traumatic Brain Injury Waiver Programs, both of which help individuals with traumatic brain injuries, disabilities, and the elderly community receive life changing medical services.

Jenn founded A1SC after working at different service coordination agencies for the TBI Waiver and realizing things needed to be done differently. Her passion for this work was also driven by her personal experience after facing the challenge of securing care for her grandmother, who was diagnosed with dementia. Experiencing financial strain, family conflict, caregiver burnout, and a lack of knowledge about available resources, Jenn became determined to support others through these struggles.

"It's incredibly humbling and truly meaningful to win the Founder's Award, not just for me, but my entire team," said Jenn DiBenedetto. "While my name may be on the award, it belongs just as much to the incredible team behind me - the people who show up every day with compassion, commitment, and a deep belief in person-centered care. I'm so proud of what we've built together."

Jenn's background spans a variety of roles, including Service Coordinator, Service Coordinator Supervisor, Director, and Regional Resource Development Specialist. These roles have equipped her with the knowledge and skills to advocate for participants and guide them through each step of the process.

Jenn and BIANYS have worked together in one way or another throughout her years in the field. She's attended their conferences, collaborated with their staff, and worked alongside board members on various initiatives. BIANYS has always been a constant presence in her work, a trusted resource, a strong advocate, and a true partner in supporting individuals with brain injuries. When Jenn started A1SC, she knew she wanted to stay closely connected to BIANYS and make sure her team had the same opportunity — to learn, grow, and be part of a larger movement of advocacy and person-centered care.

"By founding A1 Service Coordination, Jenn has addressed a massive need within the brain injury community — a truly person-centered service location that prioritizes dignity, respect, and support for the people they serve," said Eileen Reardon, BIANYS executive director. "Jenn fully embodies the spirit of the Founder's Award, and we look forward to presenting it at our annual conference."

In addition to her professional work, Jenn is a loving wife and mother. She brings the same dedication to the families she serves, striving to keep loved ones at home and out of nursing facilities. With her wealth of experience and knowledge, Jenn remains committed to ensuring that A1 Service Coordination delivers exceptional support to individuals and families across New York City and the Lower Hudson Valley.

Jenn DiBenedetto will be presented with the award at BIANYS' Annual Conference. On June 11-13, 2025, professional, caregivers, service providers, and brain injury survivors will all come together for two days of interactive workshops and educational sessions that cover industry trends and information to support and serve New York's brain injury community.

Letter to the Editor:
The Best of America

Mr. Murphy-I read this on Facebook and thought you might appreciate it and perhaps print. Something positive, thanks Helen McCabe, Bronxville.

Regardless of your politics, I'd encourage you to consider this picture: the beautiful, brilliant, daughter of Indian immigrants. A man who grew up without a father and a drug addicted mother, who joined the military and then attended and graduated from the #1 law school in America on the GI bill.

The first American pope, a Godly man, faithful to Catholic doctrine, who spent ten years in Peru, sleeping on dirt floors and serving the poor.

The son of Cuban immigrants who fled Castro's Cuba. His mother was a maid. His father was a bartender. And his wife, the beautiful daughter of Colombian immigrants.

beyond what they expected."

She said it made little sense for the various affected organizations to concentrate only on their own issues without knowing how the entire city is affected, or adopting plans that maximize resources.

"A cut in job training can reduce family income, which leads to a choice between paying the rent or buying groceries, but cuts in school meals and nutrition programs make that problem even worse, and when housing assistance ends after two years a family winds up on the street. So the federal government thinks its just cutting a jobs program, but the consequences are actually catastrophic because everything is interrelated," said Collins-Bellamy, adding, "That's why we need every affected agency and level of government working together in a formal structure."

She said she envisions an inter-agency task force meeting regularly to document reductions and establish a plan to respond as effectively as possible. "We already know the State is probably going to have to revise its budget later in the year to make up for cuts, and the City may well have to make changes of its own, although that's more difficult. It will be essential to map out the smartest way to proceed and work closely with our state and local leaders, as well as any private sector organizations that may be able to assist," she explained.

"Thank you to our Finance Department and my colleagues on the Council," commented Yonkers City Council President and Budget Chair Lakisha Collins-Bellamy. "It's not an easy decision to raise taxes. One thing Yonkers is – is resilient. In the absence of additional funding, we do the most with the least. Our students remain high performers, and that's a testament to our teaching staff and administrators. Everything we considered in this budget will continue to add to the quality of life in the City of Yonkers."

"I'm proud to have worked alongside my colleagues on the City Council to pass a budget that keeps Yonkers safe, moves our schools forward, and invests in the infrastructure that strengthens our neighborhoods. This budget reflects our shared commitment to delivering for the people of Yonkers—today and for years to come," Yonkers Council Majority Leader John Rubbo.

Yonkers Council Minority Leader Mike Breen said, "Passing the City's operating and capital budgets is never an easy task, and any tax increase is something I take very seriously. But this year's budget makes critical investments that residents will see and feel. We've allocated $4 million to repave our streets, put six brand new fire trucks into service just this week, and secured much-needed funding for the Will and Crestwood library branches. These are meaningful improvements that will benefit our neighborhoods for years to come."

Budget Snapshot:

$1.54 billion total budget

Adopted to Adopted Tax Rate of 2.85%

Bonded $7.3 million to Yonkers Board of Education for books, laptops and equipment

Preserves city/school services and workforce

Councilman Anthony Merante voted no on the budget. "

"This would not have happened without the support of the City Council," added Mayor Spano. "The City Council is fair and they are willing to spend the dollars that it takes to keep our firefighters safe and our residents safe."

Yonkers City Council President Lakisha Collins-Bellamy said, "I am pleased the Mayor and Fire Department were able to procure six new pumper trucks while most departments throughout the country are facing extended delivery delays. I proudly supported this capital investment and remain committed to keeping the residents of our growing city safe."

The blessing of the apparatus is a longstanding Fire Department tradition honoring the risk of the job, the people who serve, and the Yonkers Fire Department's mission of protecting life and property.

Mayor Spano Appoints Former Councilwoman Lorraine Lopez to Yonkers Board of Education

Mayor Mike Spano today swore in former Yonkers City Councilmember and community leader Lorraine Lopez to the Yonkers Board of Education. As trustee of the Yonkers Board of Education, Lopez is part of a nine-member Board, which is the official policy making body of the School District.

“As we continue to provide our students with the best education possible, I am proud to appoint Lorraine to the Board of Education as she brings a dynamic and diversified connection to the Yonkers community,” said Mayor Spano. “As a former Councilmember and active community member, her experience and leadership will be valuable assets to our District and our students.”

Elected the first female Hispanic Councilmember in 1999, Lopez has served as a longtime Yonkers community advocate. For nearly ten years, Lopez served as the Special Assistant to the Mayor with Constituent Services, where she assisted constituents with various education, housing, quality of life and social services assistance. Lopez has volunteered with numerous Yonkers non-profits, benefitting Yonkers students, families and minorities, including the YMCA, Yonkers Alliance of Latino & Immigrant Services, D.A.R.E. Inc., and the Habitat for Humanities Family Selection Committee. Currently, Lopez is a board member for the Hudson Valley Legal Services Executive Committee and for the Justice Center for the Hudson Valley.

“I am deeply honored that Mayor Mike Spano has appointed me to serve as a Yonkers Board of Education Trustee,” said Lorraine Lopez. “I commit to amplifying diverse student voices, fostering educational environments for both students and staff, and ensuring every child has equitable opportunities to thrive. Our students’ successes are for the betterment of our community’s future.”

Board of Education President Dr. Rosalba Corrado Del Vecchio noted, “On behalf of the Board of Education, I warmly welcome Lorraine Lopez to our governance team. Her extensive background in public service and community advocacy will strengthen our shared mission of delivering the highest quality education for every child in Yonkers. We look forward to the insight and leadership she will bring to our work.”

Superintendent of Yonkers Public Schools Anibal Soler, Jr., commented, “Lorraine Lopez brings a wealth of public service experience and an unwavering commitment to our Yonkers community. As a former City Councilmember, longtime advocate, and grandparent of a Yonkers Public Schools student, she offers a unique and deeply personal perspective. Her voice will be invaluable as we work together to implement our District’s strategic plan, which is grounded in empowerment, advancement, and excellence.”

Lorraine Lopez replaces Trustee Kevin Cacace, fulfilling the remainder of his term expiring in May 2029. Mayor Spano added, “I want to extend my deepest gratitude to Kevin Cacace for his dedicated years of service to the Board of Education who served our City and our students with loyalty, professionalism and distinction.”

June 3, 1945: The Edith Cavell Chapter of W.I.V.E.S. (Wives Insure Victory, Equality, Security) held its first war bond sale at Yonkers’ War Monument in front of City Hall. Marine Private Russell Cooper spoke about the Battles of the Solomons and Guadalcanal; businessman Gilmore Bradford spoke about witnessing the Japanese takeover of Hong Kong and his seven-month-internment there. WAC Recruiting Station’s Lieutenant Catherine Perry and Yonkers War Finance Committee members Edna Aimes and Aranya Smart also spoke

After opening their “tent headquarters,” members sold bonds on Saturdays and Sundays at the monument.

Wednesday, June 4th

June 4, 1789: John Guarenau of “the Yonkers” petitioned George Washington because he was in “an indigent situation” caused by the “late War, having lost all save some ‘cloathing’ and two beds.” His property and buildings were destroyed by the enemy during the Revolution.

His house served as General Lee’s headquarters October 1776; during “this time his honor General Lee, with every necessary he required to the amount of one hundred and seventy six pounds nineteen shillings, the chiefest part of which your Petitioner stands responsible.”

This would amount to $42,306.21 in today’s dollars.

June 4, 1926: The Habirshaw Wire and Cable Company announced plans to build a $16,000 steel and concrete building at Glenwood. Plans indicated it would be thirty feet high and built on the company’s dock.

Thursday, June 5th

June 5, 1918: Charles Easton, President of the Yonkers Board of Education, signed contracts with the US War Department to have 200 soldiers, recent inductees, trained at Saunders Trades School during the summer. Contracts covered soldiers’ food, housing and training. The men would not only would learn their “soldierly duties,” they would receive eight hours daily instruction to learn a variety of special trades. At the end of the summer, the school turned out machinists, gas engine repairmen, carpenters, plumbers and pipe fitters.

Saunders had the right equipment, the proper courses of studies, and experienced instructors.

June 5, 1922: After watching Captain John Cahill’s impressive picked rifle drill square in the Yonkers Jubilee Parade, Public Safety Commissioner Thomas Tobin ordered the other men on the Yonkers Police Force to drill with rifles during their workday.

June 5, 1928: Herbert Pokress of Caryl Avenue, representing a syndicate of American millionaires, acquired the American rights to television!

Pokress researched Yonkers to build America’s first large television station, one capable of broadcasting and receiving transmissions from around the world. Several area sites were checked out, including the Nodine Hill Water Tower and the Palisades; they determined the Proctor’s Building was best place for the proposed station.

The Baird American Television Company was named after the creator of the world’s first live television system, Scottish engineer John Logie Baird; the company wanted to build two ornamental steel towers that would “shoot into the air to a height of 100 feet,” with tower motors in the building’s penthouse. The proposed Yonkers site would be remote-controlled from New York City.

Building Inspector James Armstrong informed Pokress as far the building code, the plans were fine, but they needed to determine if zoning restrictions were violated.

Friday, June 6th:

June 6, 1944: D-Day began; it was the Allies’ biggest WWII offensive.

Rolling waves of eleven thousand planes supported invasion of Normandy’s beaches during the early morning hours.

Yonkers houses of worship kept their doors open all day for private prayers and group devotions.

Downtown’s St. John’s and St. Mary’s Churches’ noon services filled Getty Square with worshippers praying for the safety and success of our Allied troops. Courts adjourned and closed with a prayer; the Common Council held late afternoon “D Day” prayers at our War Memorial.

Yonkers was united in prayer for Allied victory.

Saturday, June 7th

June 7, 1930: Workers missed capturing some white perch while cleaning Palmer Road’s Fortfield Reservoir. The fish swam into Yonkers’ water system, clogged our water mains and effectively cut off our water supply. Water Superintendent Oscar Barker stopped the work at Fortfield to find and remove fish!

June 7, 1932: John Corkery bought the Park Restaurant for $10,000. The Park Restaurant, once a well-known gathering spot for Yonkers’ prominent citizens, originally was the Hotel Bristol at McLean Avenue and South Broadway.

Sunday, June 8th

June 8, 1930: Globe Wrecking Company began demolition of Getty Square’s Flagg Building; it would be replaced with the more modern Grant’s Department Store.

June 8, 1940: Councilmember Edith Welty accused “incompetent men” in City Hall offices of deliberately attempting to discredit City Manager Raymond Whitney; she believed they were trying to sabotage Yonkers’ Council-Manager form of government.

June 8, 2001: Yonkers native Lieutenant General William Lennox, Jr., assumed duties as the 56th Superintendent of the United States Military Academy, West Point. Lennox attended Yonkers parochial schools until he went to the US Military Academy.

New York City acting Field Office Director Judith Almodovar. "Let his futile attempt highlight to other criminal aliens we will always collaborate with our domestic and international law enforcement partners to ensure these fugitives are returned to their home countries to face justice."

The U.S. Border Patrol encountered and arrested Cruz Dec. 11, 2015, in the Rio Grande Valley in Texas after he illegally entered the U.S. Border Patrol officials served him with a notice to appear for violation of the Immigration and Nationality Act and turned him over to ICE for detention placement. ICE Harlingen granted Cruz bond Feb. 1, 2016, which he posted three days later. Cruz failed to appear for his immigration proceedings Jan. 5, 2017, so the immigration judge ordered him removed in absentia from the U.S. to the Dominican Republic.

On Feb. 2, 2018, authorities in Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, issued a warrant for Cruz's arrest for the offense of homicide, which went international six weeks later. ICE New York City received notification March 16 this year.

The New Rochelle Police Department arrested Cruz for having improper plates and impounded his vehicle May 17. The New Rochelle Police Department released Cruz on his own recognizance prior to realizing that he was an international fugitive wanted for homicide. Upon receiving this information, the police department immediately notified ICE New York City, which — along with federal partners — arrested Cruz. Cruz is currently detained in ICE custody pending removal to the Dominican Republic.—end of release from ICE.

On May 22 in Sleepy Hollow, ICE took three persons into custody, with Mayor Martin Rutyna confirming that ICE agents made the arrest at 5:30AM. Sleepy Hollow Police were notified but did not participate in the arrest. A warrant for the arrest of one individual with a criminal record was presented by ICE, but two others were also taken into custody.

"As Mayor of the Village of Sleepy Hollow, I am focused on public safety and enhancing the quality of life for our residents. I want to encourage and promote an environment in which all residents feel safe in the village," said Rutyna.

ICE did not issue a release about activity in Sleepy Hollow, nor in Ossining, where several individuals have posted about ICE sightings on several occasions over the past few months.

Pleasantville and Peekskill are other Westchester locations where ICE agents have been seen.

County Legislator James Nolan, who last month called for more cooperation between ICE and local law enforcement, said after the arrest in New Rochelle. "A few weeks ago, I expressed the urgent need for my colleagues at Westchester County to join me in revising the Immigration Protection Act. We must focus our efforts on cooperating with ICE to ensure that only violent criminals—those convicted of serious offenses—are removed from our community. With the recent report of a staggering $24 million budget gap and the clear warning that operating as a sanctuary county may jeopardize the millions in federal funding we receive, we cannot afford to ignore this reality.

"ICE is actively apprehending violent criminals who endanger our residents and disrupt our safety without our cooperation. The issue is if we continue to not work with them a lot is on the line of us losing. It's time for us to take decisive action before we put critical funding, which our taxpaying Westchester County residents rely on, at risk. We cannot protect those who commit acts of violence, whether here or abroad, while disregarding our responsibility to safeguard our citizens. I urge my colleagues once again: let's not turn a blind eye to this pressing issue. We must protect our communities, support those who wish to immigrate legally and responsibly and collaborate with the federal government to eliminate violent offenders from our streets. We must act now to secure the necessary funding that our county desperately needs," said Nolan.

Letter: Don't let Trump sell off our public lands to Big Oil!

Dear Editor

Donald Trump is offering a massive public lands giveaway to the fossil fuel industry.

He's ordered the U.S. to "drill baby drill" on public lands, and he's fast-tracked new oil and gas projects, bypassing environmental and public review. His allies in Congress are even pushing to open Alaska's Arctic National Wildlife Refuge to oil drilling.

If they get their way, the fossil fuel industry will wreck our national landmarks for profit and pump millions more tons of planet-warming pollution into the atmosphere in the process.

So if we don't want to see drilling rigs the next time we head outdoors, we need to send a clear message: Don't sell off our public lands to Big Oil!

Sincerely,

Gregory Spock, New Rochelle

This year's festival promises nonstop entertainment and vibrant energy with a standout lineup of performers representing the full spectrum of queer artistry. Headlining the festivities is Lana Ja'Rae, fresh off Season 17 of RuPaul's Drag Race. Known for her high-fashion glamour and fierce determination, Lana's bold presence and signature style lit up the Drag Race stage—and now she's bringing that same unforgettable energy to Yonkers. Fan favorite Catrina LoveLace returns to host and perform with two show-stopping numbers packed with high kicks, sharp wit, and the chaotic fun only your "Mexican auntie" can deliver. The stage will also feature powerhouse queer punk project All My Friends, led by activist and multi-instrumentalist Christina Picciano, delivering anthems of resistance, resilience, and raw NYC energy. Drag royalty Sienna Rose—known for leading Connecticut's longest-running drag show and brunch—brings charisma, comedy, and crowd-pleasing flair, while Luxury Bones, the 2024 Mx. Congeniality, and "charismatic cult leader" of the NYC drag scene, delivers high-grade mischief and magnetic charm. Yonkers audiences will also enjoy bold performances from acclaimed Drag Kings Cunning Stunt—aka Mister Gay NYC United States M.I. 2024—and Show Ponii, winner of the 2023 and 2024 Glam Awards for Best Drag King. The lineup also features Hibiscus—a tiny queen with a big presence, known for her high-energy dance numbers, bold personality, and dedication to the LGBTQ+ community. A former Miss Stonewall, U.S. Army veteran, and three-time Glam Award-winning brunch host, she's a true force on the NYC drag scene.

Bronx-raised DJ and producer Dada Cozmic keeps the energy high with a sound rooted in her queer Caribbean identity, and the lineup is rounded out by the captivating Nola Bunny, as well as dynamic performances by Emphasis Entertainment and Midnight.

Festivalgoers can also enjoy a variety of fun, interactive activities for all ages. Take a spin on the mechanical bull ride, strike a pose in the FREE 360 photo booth, or scale new heights on the rock wall. Kids (and kids at heart) will love the Unicorn Slide Combo and be mesmerized by a magical bubble show. Plus, don't miss the caricature artist capturing personalities on paper and the always-popular dunk tank.

In addition to hosting the annual festival, Yonkers Pride proudly supports the next generation of leaders through its annual $1,000 scholarship, awarded to a graduating Yonkers Public High School senior who demonstrates leadership, academic achievement, financial need, and a commitment to supporting or advocating for the LGBTQ+ community. The recipient will be recognized during the Flag Raising Ceremony on June 13, highlighting the importance of visibility, education, and opportunity for LGBTQ+ youth and allies. Playland Opens for Memorial Day Weekend

Playland Park kicked off the 2025 season over Memorial Day Weekend—Saturday, May 24 through Monday, May 26. Visitors enjoyed everything this Westchester County Parks landmark has to offer with free admission, rides and parking all three days from 11 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Westchester County Executive Ken Jenkins said: “Opening this park in time for Memorial Day Weekend wasn’t easy. It took hustle. It took late nights, early mornings, and a team of County employees who refused to give anything less than 100 percent. From Public Works to Parks, from leadership to laborers — including contractors, vendors, the Westchester Children’s Museum, the New York State Department of Labor and even the Governor’s Office — this was truly an all-hands-on-deck operation. And even though we’re not fully open yet, what you see here today is a $150 million investment in you, in our history, in our children and grandchildren. Playland, as it stands today, is a testament to what’s possible when people care deeply about this place and the families who come here. And let me tell you — we are just getting started.”

The park will continue to undergo repairs and upgrades, with some rides coming on line over the summer.

Yonkers Pride Festival Returns June 14 “Unapologetically Us: Love Unstoppable”

Yonkers Pride in partnership with the Yonkers Downtown Waterfront BID, proudly presents the 2025 Yonkers Pride Festival, set for Saturday, June 14 from 1:00 PM to 7:00 PM in Downtown Yonkers. Now in its 8th year, the annual celebration continues to uplift and unite the LGBTQ+ community and allies with this year’s powerful theme: “Unapologetically Us: Love Unstoppable.”

“This year’s theme is about standing in our truth, celebrating who we are without compromise, and showing that love—especially queer love—is a force that can’t be silenced,” said Rachel Deliz, Festival Chair of Yonkers Pride. “We’re excited to bring the community back together for a powerful, joyful, and affirming weekend in the heart of Yonkers.”

The weekend of pride and visibility will kick off with a Flag Raising Ceremony at The Unity Fountain at City Hall, 40 S Broadway on Friday, June 13 at 4:30-5:00pm, hosted in partnership with the City of Yonkers and the Mayor’s LGBTQ+ Advisory Board.

“The Yonkers Pride Festival is a day to celebrate love and the individuality of who we are,” said Mayor Spano. “Yonkers’ greatest strength continues to be our diversity, and what better way to demonstrate that than by our LGBTQIA+ neighbors, friends, and allies coming together for this festive event. We invite all to join us.”
