

Democrats & BOL Sole Republican, James Nolan, Spar Before Election Day

By Dan Murphy

County Legislator James Nolan

County Legislator James Nolan is the only republican on the Westchester BOL. Another legislator, Margaret Cunzio, is a conservative, with the other 15 legislators Democrats.

Nolan was elected five years ago. He also works on a truck for the Yonkers Department of Public Works.

Nolan fits into the MAGA world of republicans; he calls them like he sees them and will speak out whenever he thinks the time is right.

Nolan is also a proud union member of Teamsters Local 456, and several other Westchester unions back his campaign.

Nolan is also one of Westchester's hardest-working campaigners. He and his supporters will knock on thousands of doors in the 15th District, which Nolan represents (East Yonkers, Bronxville, Tuckahoe, Eastchester). We mention all of Nolan's attributes as Letter: What Will it Take for Governor Hochul to Endorse the New York Health Act?

At this stage of the game, it is appropriate to ask what it will take for Gov. Kathy Hochul to endorse the New York Health Act.

The act proposes a single payer health care system that would guarantee health care for all New Yorkers — no copays, no premiums, no deductibles — and would save billions of dollars in county, municipal and school district costs.

By Hochul’s own calculations, issued last July, 1.7 million New Yorkers alone are at risk of losing their health care benefits under Donald Trump’s Big Beautiful Bill, resulting in 65,000 lost jobs, 51,000 preventable deaths and the potential closing of 18 hospitals, not to mention savings that would be accrued from lower property taxes, county and municipal employee benefits and school district expenses. Some Medicaid recipients have already received their termination notices in the mail. By Hochul’s own calculations, these cuts will cost the state about $12.5 billion a year (some studies estimate this figure as high as $20 billion).

One can argue that Trump and Congress intended all along to shift the burden of health care costs to the states, which is all the more reason to wonder why Gov. Hochul has withheld her support for the bill, when backing it is the politically smart thing to do. Clear majorities in both houses of the state legislature are either pledged supporters or co-sponsors of the New York Health Act. All it takes is for Gov. Hochul to say that she’s on board and it will pass. What on Earth is she waiting for?

October 20, 1950: Dr. Francis P. Corrigan, prominent surgeon and political advisor on Latin American affairs to the US Mission to the United Nations, addressed Yonkers Rotary. During his talk, he spoke about our “breath-taking vista of the Hudson and the Jersey shoreline... I suppose you see it so often,” he observed, “you don’t quite realize how beautiful it is.” This was high praise from someone who had traveled to all parts of the globe.

October 20, 1920: Peter McMann, 55 years old and from Elm Street, told Philadelphia police his strange story, and nearly collapsed while speaking to them. He had indications of the torture he believed inflicted by the Ku Klux Klan; “deep red furrows ringed his wrists and neck.” McMann showed where he was tied, scars where he was whipped, and bruises over his body. He reported he was kidnapped by eight masked men in South Carolina. They tried to hang him; the rope was not strong enough. He was blindfolded and put on a train to New York with a stranger who watched him, ensuring he did not leave the train. He believed he was tortured because he helped a South Carolina woman get “her rights in the division of her father’s property,” her father was a bank president.

Yonkers Woman Pleads Guilty to Animal Cruelty Charges for Slashing, Abandoning Dog

Frankie

Westchester County District Attorney Susan Cacace announced today that a Yonkers woman pleaded guilty to animal cruelty charges after abandoning her 1-year-old dog, who was left tied to a gate for hours and later found with a severe gash on his neck.

The defendant, Anita Martin, 60, pleaded guilty Wednesday before Judge Melissa Loehr in Westchester County Court to Overdriving, Torturing, and Injuring Animals; Failure to Provide Proper Sustenance, a class A misdemeanor, and Abandonment of Animals, an unclassified misdemeanor.

Both charges are covered under New York State's Agriculture and Markets Law, as the state's Penal Law does not contain applicable provisions addressing these types of animal cruelty offenses.

The defendant is expected to be sentenced to three years of probation on Jan. 13, 2027. She will also be required to complete 20 hours of community service, pay $1,618.50 in restitution to the Yonkers Animal Shelter, and be listed on the Animal Abuse Registry.

DA Cacace said: “The cruelty Anita Martin inflicted on Frankie, a defenseless 1-year-old mastiff mix, is reprehensible. Today’s plea ensures that Ms. Martin will be placed on the Animal Abuse Registry, prohibiting her from owning, caring for, or having contact with animals. She must also reimburse the cost of Frankie’s care to the Yonkers Animal Shelter, which treated him after being abandoned, and remain under probation supervision for three years. My office is committed to doing all we can to ensure the health and safety of our precious pets, and that includes using every resource to work with our partners across all levels of government to strengthen our animal cruelty laws and expand the legal tools available so the penalties reflect the severity of these offenses. We are grateful Frankie has recovered from his injuries and is now in a loving home.”

On Nov. 21, 2025, at approximately 12:57 a.m., the defendant abandoned her dog Frankie, a 1-year-old mastiff-mix, and left him tied to a gate at Saint John's Cemetery in Yonkers without food or water for more than three hours. A good Samaritan later found Frankie and alerted police.

During a subsequent medical examination, a veterinarian determined that Frankie had a wound on his neck measuring 22 centimeters long and 4 centimeters deep, according to the veterinarian's deposition. The gash exposed the underlying tissue and was severely infected, with pus and a foul odor present.

Frankie was also found to be severely underweight and emaciated, with his ribs clearly visible, indicating prolonged inadequate nutrition. He subsequently underwent a complex, two-hour surgery to treat his injuries.

Despite these challenges, Frankie retained a “remarkably sweet and loving” demeanor, according to the veterinarian. And it wasn’t long before he was adopted by a loving family.

The Yonkers Police Department and SPCA Westchester conducted the investigation.

Westchester BOL Greenlights $6 Million+ for Yonkers Flood Relief

The Westchester County Board of Legislators unanimously approved three measures to improve infrastructure across the County at its meeting on Monday, September 28, 2026. The legislation provides more than $6 million for flood control in Yonkers and Complete Streets projects in four villages, while authorizing agreements with more than 20 municipalities for no-cost upkeep of Bee-Line bus shelters. In Yonkers, legislators approved $1.85 million for a flood control project along Harrison Avenue. The funding will cover construction of drainage improvements designed to prevent stormwater from pooling. The County and City of Yonkers will split the cost of the improvements for the duration of the construction, which is expected to start in the Fall of 2027. Majority Whip Shanae Williams (D–Yonkers), Chair of the Board’s Infrastructure and Housing Committee, said, “Government has a responsibility to deliver more than promises—we have to make the investments that keep our communities safe, accessible, and moving forward. These laws represent real investments in the infrastructure our residents depend on. From safer streets in four villages, to relief from years of flooding in Yonkers, to bus shelters that are cleared of snow and kept safe for riders, these projects meet real needs in our communities. These are the kinds of investments that matter—projects people can see, feel, and benefit from. Whether someone is walking down the street, trying to get home during a storm, or waiting for a bus in the winter, they deserve infrastructure that works and a government that takes their safety seriously. That is what we are delivering. Legislator David J. Tubiolo (D–Yonkers, Mount Vernon), Vice Chair of the Board’s Budget and Appropriations Committee, said, “I am delighted to support funding that addresses persistent flooding in my district. Harrison Avenue has endured severe, repetitive flood damage for far too long. Every time a major storm hits, families on Harrison Avenue and nearby streets deal with flooded basements, damaged cars, and roads they can’t drive on. With this $1.85 million in dedicated funding, Westchester County is building new drainage to carry stormwater away from homes and streets. This crucial investment will help finance the cost of construction and construction management for stormwater improvements, including preparation of plans and specifications, eliminate chronic flooding in our Yonkers neighborhoods, and bring long-overdue relief to families along Harrison Avenue. Protecting the safety and property of our community remains my highest priority.”

munities safe; invest in our schools; and make Albany give us our fair share. And while knowing what to do and knowing how to make it happen are two different things, Frank brings a degree of experience as the current Assemblyman’s Chief of Staff that means he knows how Albany works, he has relationships with community and civic leaders across the spectrum, and he knows how to get things done. Further, as a member of the Assembly Majority, Jereis would have more influence and a stronger ability to deliver for our city.

Frank also brings a perspective that we need in Albany right now, as a relatively young person building a career while figuring out how to be able to afford to live, grow and thrive here in Yonkers. He’s a commonsense Democrat who knows we need private sector partnerships and a strong business community to grow and produce jobs for the future. He’s promised to fight for good, second-generation housing, senior housing, and more to ease our shortage and bring down costs. He knows that we need to keep our streets safe from crime and gun violence, so he’s been endorsed by the Yonkers PBA as well as getting the Gun Sense Candidate distinction from Mom’s Demand Action. And he knows that the progress we’ve made in our schools and downtown Yonkers needs to continue, and he’s ready to work with our state and city officials to make it happen.

On immigration, Frank strikes the right balance, knowing that we need fair immigration enforcement to deport criminals and violent felons, but ICE’s overreach, aggressive tactics, and inaccurate targeting of people for arrest has created distrust and fear in our communities that needs to end.

Similarly, he knows we need to follow the science on climate change, reducing our carbon footprint while building resilient infrastructure that can withstand higher seas, stronger storms, and more flooding. And he’ll stand up against construction of new data centers that drain our water and energy without paying their fair share.

There’s no question that we need change in Albany, with new leaders, fresh ideas, and different perspectives. We also need elected leaders who understand the real challenges we face today, from the affordability crisis to the role of AI in our society. That’s exactly what Frank represents, and it’s why he’s earned our endorsement for State Assembly.

The defendant is currently remanded at the Westchester County Jail and is scheduled to be sentenced Nov. 24, 2026. He faces up to 25 years to life in state prison.

DA Cacace said: “I want to commend the young victim in this case for the courage she demonstrated in facing her abuser in court and ensuring the jury heard her testimony about the heinous and monstrous acts committed against her for years by Rolando Ruiz. Her tremendous strength, coupled with the extraordinary work of my Child Abuse Bureau and the Yonkers Police Department, helped secure this hard-won conviction and guarantee that this despicable defendant will spend significant time behind bars.”

Between Sept. 5, 2020, and Dec. 30, 2024, the defendant repeatedly subjected the victim, a female child under the age of 13, to two or more acts of sexual conduct, including vaginal and oral sexual conduct, in the City of Yonkers.

The defendant also used his cell phone to record two videos – one in May 2024 and the other in December 2024 – of the victim engaging in oral sexual conduct.

The Yonkers Police Department arrested the defendant on April 6, 2025, after receiving a tip from an individual who reported seeing the two sexually explicit videos on the defendant’s cell phone.

The investigation was conducted by the Yonkers Police Department.

The case is being prosecuted Child Abuse Bureau Chief Owein Levin and Assistant District Attorney Daniela Pisahov, both of the Special Prosecutions Division. Former Senior Assistant District Attorney Charlotte Gudis was previously assigned to the case.

Yonkers History, continued from p3-

October 21, 1941: Because of a growing copper shortage, the Office of Production Management banned manufacturing 108 civilian products, hoping it would create a more stable supply of copper for defense production. This didn’t affect Habirshaw Cable; for months, it didn’t receive copper to make civilian products.

Three non-defense products Habirshaw no longer manufactured were cuspidors, lipstick holders and car heaters.

Thursday, October 22nd

October 22, 1930: Mayor John Fogarty and Board of Education President Leslie Sutherland were principal speakers at the opening of Longfellow Junior High School on North Broadway; thousands toured the building afterwards. Today the school is Barak Obama School for Social Justice.

October 22, 1943: Former Councilman Al Richter, visiting Yonkers for a short time before reporting for training at Fort Schuyler, spoke to the Columbian Squires, the Knights of Columbus youth group Richter organized.

Friday, October 23rd

October 23, 1890: Thomas Ewing Jr. held a reception in his High Street home honoring renowned Civil War military leader—and Ewing’s foster brother-- William Tecumseh Sherman. After the death of Sherman family’s father in 1829, the family was broken up. The family of Ohio Senator Thomas Ewing Sr. family took in Sherman. Ewing Sr., who also was the first Secretary of the Interior, obtained a commission to the US Military Academy for Sherman.

Saturday, October 24th

October 24, 1922: Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford joined festivities honoring Yonkers’ own tennis star, Vince Richards! The couple had difficulty making their way through the big crowd by the Elks Clubhouse; everyone wanted to see the famous stars! But for the excellent work by the First Precinct police officers, the couple would have been swamped!

October 24, 1939: Yonkers Canoe Club paddlers Edward Balko and Richard Straub turned down the reward offered by Anthony Fokker, owner of the 112-foot Art Deco luxury yacht QED. Fokker loaned the vessel to a couple for a honeymoon cruise. While sailing on the Hudson River off Yonkers’s coast, a fast-moving fire broke out; the vessel was destroyed within minutes. Eleven people jumped off and were rescued by the two Yonkers paddlers. Our Yonkers men brushed off the reward, as they felt the rescue was something they should have done.

Sunday, October 25th

October 25, 1930: The War Department announced they would require Yonkers end river obstruction; they told Yonkers to dredge the Hudson River where deposits from the Nepperhan flume had accumulated. They became aware of this because of the Peene Wharf Company’s lawsuit filed against Yonkers, claiming flume deposits did $150,000 damage to its wharf property.

October 25, 1946: Dr. Edward Jones, Yonkers first Black Dentist and graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, was featured in an Ebony magazine spread as an influential resident of Sugar Hill.

Jones had been National Broad-jump champion in the 1910s and still traveled to sports events in the New York area.

Manhattan’s Sugar Hill was home to prominent African Americans such as Dr. DuBois, Roy Wilkins, William Andrews, Canada Lee and William Stanley Braithwaite.

Democrats hope to defeat him in less than a month, with Yonkers Democrat Kisha Skipper as his challenger.

Westchester Democrats annoyance with Nolan resurfaced last week when Nolan proposed giving members of the Westchester County Probation Department a new benefit: a retirement plan after 25 years. “I am proud to formally propose a Home Rule Request to establish a special 25-year retirement plan for Westchester County Probation Department Probation Officers.

“Our probation officers perform an essential public-safety role every day. They supervise individuals convicted of serious crimes, conduct home and field visits, investigate violations, enforce court-ordered conditions, and work alongside our police departments and courts, often in difficult and potentially dangerous situations.

“New York State has already recognized similar public-safety professionals with comparable 25-year retirement plans. I believe our Westchester County probation peace officers deserve the same consideration.

“I am asking my colleagues on the Board of Legislators to join me in supporting this proposal. This should not be a partisan issue. It is about doing what is right for the men and women who dedicate their careers to protecting our communities. They show up for Westchester every day. Now it is our turn to show up for them.

“P.S. This proposal was NOT done collaboratively with CSEA 9200 President and leadership. I proposed this after working with the Westchester County Probation Association. CSEA Local 9200 cannot take credit for this and shouldn’t! “said Nolan.

Responding to Nolan was Westchester County Communications Director Catherine Cioffi, who stated,“At a time when Westchester County is facing unprecedented fiscal pressures, Legislator James Nolan is introducing yet another proposal that would place additional financial burdens on County taxpayers. The Trump Administration’s changes to the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) are already expected to shift approximately $6 million in additional costs onto Westchester County taxpayers. Six million dollars means a 1% property tax increase.

“Earlier this year, the Administration reviewed the request from the CSEA to opt-in to the 25-year retirement plan for County Probation Officers. The research indicates that only two large and five small counties have opted to implement this benefit since its adoption by NYS. After careful analysis, we advised the CSEA that adopting this plan is cost-prohibitive for the County. Specifically, the County cannot absorb the required reimbursement payments to the New York State & Local Retirement System.

“The Administration advised the CSEA in July that the Union is welcome to raise this as a subject of negotiations upon the expiration of the current collective bargaining agreement. If it does so, this issue will be considered, in conjunction with other proposals raised by the CSEA and County, to the extent required by the Taylor Law.

“Finally, the financial impact of recent changes to Tier 6 must be factored into the budget discussion. Nolan making this proposal a month prior to the 2027 Proposed Operating Budget release is fiscally irresponsible,” said Cioffi.

In our view, Nolan’s and Cioffi’s statements can both be true. It was politically wise for Nolan to make this proposal less than a month before election day. It strengthened his support among law enforcement and the union community.

We also don’t understand how Westchester County Probation officers never got into the NYS retirement system. If teachers, firefighters, police, and thousands of county workers get a pension after 25 years, why not probation officers? This is Nolan’s argument, and it has merit.

But we also understand and agree with Cioffi’s comments, with the understanding that they are coming at the behest of County Executive Ken Jenkins. Jenkins has always been a Westchester Democrat concerned about the county budget’s bottom line: what will the next property tax be? When he was BOL Chair years ago, Jenkins cut county property taxes by 2% with then County Executive Rob Astorino.

Jenkins and the BOL are also coming off a budget passed last year that raised county property taxes by 3.7%

We also agree with Cioffi that Nolan’s proposal is fiscally irresponsible because it lacks a cost-benefit analysis. Based on her statement, the cost would be too high to implement while keeping county property taxes under control.

Another issue is that Nolan’s plan will never reach the BOL for a vote, because Nolan has no power to move legislation forward. He needs 9 votes, and right now it’s only him and Legislator Cunzio, who frequently works with county Democrats. But even Cunzio faces an opponent this year, after years without opposition, in Democrat Michael Peppard.

This all fits into a plan by Westchester Democrats to WIN IT ALL and take every office currently occupied by a Westchester Republican, and there ain’t that many left. We understand that when a Democrat steps forward to run for office, those in power in the Democratic Party have no real choice but to back their campaign against the Republican.

Some democrats want some opposition, especially those with little or no power. Other democrats we spoke to said they have had enough of Legislator Nolan and would love to see him go.

But that will require more support, funding, and campaign work on the trail with Democrat Kisha Skipper, who just had a well-attended fundraiser this week. Or maybe the belief is that, with Governor Kathy Hochul on top of the ticket this year after changing NYS Election law, Democrats are hoping a Blue Wave of Democratic support will wash away candidates like James Nolan and other Westchester Republicans. Good luck with that. Legislator James Nolan will be knocking on your door soon or working on the garbage truck on your street in Yonkers.
